Chinese Make Bitter Attack On Foreigners

Consuls Open to Corruption, China Asserts—Slayers of Orientals Shielded and Go Unpunished

Premium Declared Placed on Murder

Diplomatic Corps Angered by Peking Accusations—Such Insulting Language Inconceivable, Says Briton

PEKING, Oct. 9.—Charges by the Chinese Ministry of Justice that foreign consuls in China possessing judicial power "are open to corruption" and that "foreigners who wound and kill Chinese not only go unpunished, but are shielded in every way," has created an unpleasant diplomatic incident and drawn an emphatic protest from the diplomatic corps. The Ministry of Justice caused the publication of the following statement in the official gazette of September 26:

"If a cause is sought for the Shanghai affair (the shooting of several Chinese demonstrators by police of the international settlement on May 30) which violated the canons of humanity, the subsequent incidents at Hankkow and Shameen, it will be found that these occurrences have their root in the evil of consular jurisdiction.

Say Premium Put on Murder

"That a slayer shall die is a principle held in common by Chinese and foreign ideals, but foreign consuls who possess judicial power are open to corruption, and in consequence foreigners who wound and kill Chinese not only go unpunished, but are shielded in every way. This amounts to a premium put on murder. Unless, therefore, the jurisdiction of these foreigners is recovered the situation is fraught with grave dangers."

Concerning this publication, W. J. Oudendijk, the British Minister who is dean of the diplomatic corps, wrote to the Foreign Office as follows:

Corps Protests

"It seems almost inconceivable that high authority of any Government should countenance the use of such highly insulting language regarding the officials of friendly powers. The diplomatic corps feel constrained not only to protest emphatically, but to give expression to a painful surprise that the Ministry of Justice has seen fit to give evidence of a disposition to base the Chinese case upon gross misrepresentations and reflections upon the integrity of the consular officials of the friendly powers."

Falling Log Kills Old-Time B.C. Logger

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—Miles Fitzgerald, sixty-three, a logger, was killed by a falling log at the Broyles & Kimball logging camp, and buried at Alert Bay, according to Constable Hadley, of the Provincial Police, who came to the city today. Fitzgerald was an old-timer on the Coast. Police are anxious to learn if he has any relatives.

To Guard Jails Closer

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9. — Radical changes in the present guard system at the Provincial jail here were forecast today by Hon. R. W. Craig, Attorney-General, as a result of inquiry into the escape of five prisoners last Tuesday. The Government inquiry is proceeding.

Rome to Nome by Airship Amundsen's Next Venture

Explorer Reaches New York to Lay Plans for New Expedition Next Year Across Arctic

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Undaunted by Arctic peril, Captain Roald Amundsen, whose polar airplane expedition barely escaped destruction last Summer, arrived today from Europe to begin preparations for resumption of the flight next Summer from Rome to Nome in a semi-rigid balloon.

As a continuation of last Summer's attempt to fly across the roof of the world Amundsen and his youthful American patron, Lincoln Ellsworth, will head a party of eighteen scientists and aeronautical experts on an adventure to be known as the Amundsen-Ellsworth transpolar flight. The purpose of the flight will be geographical exploration and survey of a million square miles of polar regions between the point where Amundsen's expedition stopped last Summer and Alaska, the explorer hoping to discover large areas of land upon which he will plant the Norwegian flag.

Meighen Policy Would Aid Coal Shipments East

Conservative Leader Would Assist Alberta Industry—Debt Reduction Claims Challenged

CALGARY, Oct. 9.—"We propose to give assistance as a Dominion measure to the transportation of coal from Alberta to the more Eastern parts of Canada," said Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, propounding his policy to Calgary audiences tonight. The Conservatives, he said, recognized that the West and extreme East bore undue shares of the burden of transportation cost. When the basis of rates was fixed by the proper tribunal, the requirement of equalization might necessitate contributions by the whole Dominion to the reduction of the unfair burdens borne by the West and the Maritimes.

But Canada would never be in a position to solve her railway problems unless industry was stimulated and railway traffic increased. Tariff reform, he said, was the only way to solve the problem.

Mr. Meighen ridiculed the suggestion that the Liberal Government had reduced the national debt. The indebtedness of the Canadian National Railways had to be taken into account and this brought the debt to much higher level than in 1921.

Premier King, he said, had no policy to give the electorate. He could only recklessly promise public expenditures as a bribe. He could only offer to build the Hudson Bay Railway "at so many miles per member," if the West sent Liberals, or camouflaged Liberals, to Ottawa.

Riffians' Sniping Captured Capital

Deserters From Foreign Legion Are Executed by Spaniards When Made Prisoner

MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, Oct. 9.—The Riffians have reappeared on the hills surrounding Ajdir, Abd-el-Krim's capital, captured by Spanish troops last week, and are sniping twenty-four hours a day.

During the recent fighting general orders were issued to troops to take as much booty and prisoners as possible. One hundred pesetas was offered for every prisoner captured. Among the prisoners taken were two machine gunners, who were recognized as deserters from the Foreign Legion and summarily executed.

MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, Oct 9.—The rebellious Moroccans, using both rifles and cannon, fired upon Spanish forces in the Ajdir region today, but were silenced by the Spanish artillery. The Spanish garrison on Mount Amekran is continuing fortification of the position to prevent further night attacks by the rebels.

No Trace Yet Found Of Missing Aviator

CLARION, Pa., Oct. 9.—The whereabouts of Pilot Charles H. Ames, of the United States air mail service, who disappeared a week ago, was as deep a mystery as when the search for him began last Friday. Today the search was confined largely to the ground work because of the inclement weather which made for poor visibility from the air.

Many additional volunteers were at work, prompted by the reward of $500 offered by the Pilots' Association of America for the finding of the lost pilot.

Court Reserves Judgment in Sowash Appeal

Terrible to Convict Men on Evidence of Such Men as Stromkins, Says Member of Bench

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—Judgment was reserved this afternoon in the appeal of Harry (Si) Sowash, following completion of Crown argument by A. M. Johnson, K. C.

Mr. Johnson was brief in his argument, pointing to evidence in the record showing the connection of Sowash with unlawful purposes. Particularly he mentioned the confession of March 8; Sowash's statement in the jail, March 23, when he attempted to communicate with Baker; and the evidence given by the condemned man himself at the trial on June 18.

Mr. Johnson declared there had been no material wrong in the charge to the jury and that, therefore, the conviction should stand.

R. D. Harvey argued his application in the morning.

Severe on Stromkins

"That lives should be at stake on the statements of this kind of man is perfectly terrible," declared Mr. Justice McPhillips, in reference to argument that Cst. Paul Stromkins, on whose testimny the Crown chiefly relied in the Baker-Sowash murder case, was an accomplice.

"The story of Stromkins that Sowash killed the boy Gillis sounds to me like a concoction," said His Lordship.

"Why would they let the boy wander around the boat for an hour or so after his father had been shot? It is incomprahensible to me. One must apply one's ordinary judgment."

Chief Justice Macdonald told Mr. Harvey, counsel for Sowash, that it was of no use to cite authorities on the question of common unlawful purpose.

"Evidence of that is either given by Sowash himself or it is not," said the Chief Justice.

Judge Claimed Wrong

Mr. Harvey replied that he did not argue that there was no such evidence; his point was that the trial judge had decided the question in his charge to the jury instead of leaving

Conservative Consistency Is Attacked

Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, Criticizes Mr. Arthur Meighen for Presenting Same Policy

Cannot Use Tactics Of States in Canada

Only Fifteen Per Cent of Canadian Forests Open to Exportation to U.S., Dr. King States

THE policies of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and the Conservative party were today the same policies which the electors of Canada had repudiated in 1921, according to Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works in the Liberal Government. Hon. Dr. King was the principal speaker at the Liberal meeting held last night in the Royal Victoria Theatre, when Mr. William Ivel, choice of the Liberals of Victoria to oppose the re-election of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, opened his campaign.

The audience, while fairly large, was an exceptionally undemonstrative one, and it was perhaps that fact that contributed to Dr. King's failure to "get going" in his usual fashion. Besides the other two speakers of the evening, Mr. Ivel and Brigadier-General Victor Odlum, supporters on the stage included four ministers of the British Columbia Provincial Government, Hon. Dr. MacLean, Hon. A. M. Manson, Hon. Dr. Sutherland and Hon. T. D. Pattullo. Mr. R. C. Nicholas, at one time mentioned as a candidate for the Liberal nomination here, and Mr. J. B. Clearihue, were also in the first row on the stage.

Hon. Dr. King charged that Mr. Meighen, when he spoke in Victoria last Tuesday evening, had given the same speech on the tariff question that he had given in the House of Commons last May when he was supporting his tariff resolution. The motion, when put to a vote, had been defeated by a majority of 110, Dr. King declared. In December of 1921, he had appealed to the country on the same arguments, and, from a position of power, had been reduced to the leadership of the smallest group in the Dominion Parliament. No political leader, nor any party, had ever suffered such a defeat in Canada before.

Canadian Reindeer Experiment Fails

Only Seven Animals Still Alive of Six Hundred Sent to Baffin Land

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Failure has attended the attempt to pasture Lapland reindeer on Baffin Land, according to advices from Arctic expeditions. Private interests in 1925 took 600 reindeer to this district and of this number only seven are alive.

The failure is attributed to the lack of wooded country and absence of accustomed shelter. While reindeer are not suited to the district it is thought that caribou will survive and propagate there if feeding grounds are established, while the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Craig Harbor report that musk oxen are comparatively tame and subject to domestication.

Councillors Incite Police to Strike

Two Scots Are Jailed and Fined for Urging Officers to Hit Superiors

EDINBURGH, Oct. 9.—Two town councillors, representing, respectively, Gourock and Port Glasgow, Renfrew, Scotland, have been convicted of attempting to induce the police to go on strike and use their batons against their superior officers, and have been sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment and each fined £10.

They were charged with having made the attempt in question while addressing a Communist meeting.

Notice of appeal has been given on behalf of both men.

Backer of Mr. Dickie Is Willing to Wager $1,000—No Takers

DUNCAN, Oct. 9.—There appears to be only one opinion throughout the northern portion of this constituency regarding the result of the poll on election day for the Nanaimo riding.

There is practically no betting, for the reason that there is no Liberal money in sight.

One prominent Duncan business man, who is noted for his ability to pick a winner, and who, four years ago, collected nearly $1,000 on bets on Mr. Dickie's election, has this year been unable to get any of his money covered.

Last week this gentleman deposited $1,000 with friends in Nanaimo for betting on the election, but up to the present not a single bet has been made. The only wager of any size in which any Liberal money has appeared is one that Mr. Dickie's majority will not exceed 1,500 votes.

Port Growth Is Seen as First Desire of City

Mr. W. M. Ivel, at Liberal Rally, Declares Present Ministry Has Made Use of Ocean Docks Feasible

General Odlum Speaks

VOICING an appeal for development of the port of Victoria, Mr. W. M. Ivel, Liberal candidate for Victoria, at the party rally held last evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre, drew a contrast between conditions at the Ocean Docks in 1921, and the situation today.

Referring to the successful conclusion by the Mackenzie King Administration of treaties with South Africa, the British West Indies, and Australia, and the great growth of exports, particularly with the Commonwealth, he asked, "Have you grasped what significance that should be to this port?"

Port Development

"Have we got our share of that business? I do not think we have," Mr. Ivel said. "I feel it a duty imposed on you, ladies and gentlemen, to come forward on October 29, and show by your votes that you appreciate the work that has been done by this Government." Comparing the accommodation of the docks now with what they were four years ago, Mr. Ivel pointed out that the harbor works carried out some years ago were considered by the Conservatives as completed—that they had done their duty. His audience would remember that he had made utilization of the docks a strong plank in his platform in 1921.

Four Ministers Promised West

Portfolio for Hon. T. C. Norris —Hecklers Ask Mr. King's War Record

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—In the last speech of his Western campaign, Premier King tonight announced his intention to include in his cabinet Hon. T. C. Norris, ex-Premier of Manitoba and Liberal candidate in Winnipeg South. The Prime Minister intimated further that four portfolios in all would go to the West, the four Western members of the cabinet in view being: Hon. T. C. Norris, Manitoba; Hon. C. A. Dunning and Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Saskatchewan, and Hon. Charles Stewart, Alberta. (The last two are already in the cabinet.)

He announced a "rigorous" immigration policy directed by a minister giving his whole time to the work. But the immigration would not be indiscriminate. It would have regard for quality as well as quantity.

There were rapid-fire interruptions and comments, followed by equally swift retort, Mr. King had hardly begun when one interrupter wanted to know his war record.

Heckled on War Record

The Prime Minister warmly retorted that he would be proud to compare his record with that of the heckler. He told of his family obligations when war broke out, said that he had not been of age to go into the trenches, and spoke of his work in settling labor disputes in concerns shipping war materials to the Allies.

"What did Meighen do in the war?" shouted another heckler.

"He took a portfolio," called a third.

"I think that Mr. Meighen did his full duty in the light in which he saw it," sharply added the Premier, and applause broke out.

Seven Ships Come to Grief Near Here in Worst Fog of Years

Princess Kathleen Runs on Hospital Rock—Sea Monarch Sunk Off Port Townsend in Collision With Ss. Zenon—Salvage Queen Assists Ss. Otter—Launch and Occupants Rescued Off Sooke Harbor

Ss. Admiral Dewey Collides With Texan Off Dungeness

SEVEN shipping casualties, due to the heavy blanket of fog which has hung over the Strait of Juan de Fuca during the past forty-eight hours, were reported last night. The fog is the worst that has been experienced in years, in the opinion of veteran shipping men.

The Ss. Princess Kathleen ran bow on to Hospital Rock in the Inner Harbor when clearing for Seattle yesterday afternoon.

The Ss. Admiral Dewey collided with the Ss. Texan three miles east of Dungeness Light at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The steamer Otter went ashore at Hope Bay, Pender Island, early yesterday morning.

The Canadian Winner went aground in the Fraser River early yesterday morning.

The steamer Potlatch drove on the rocks of Huckleberry Island, of the San Juan group, Thursday night.

The gasboat, C. and C., of the Star Construction Company, was adrift for twenty-four hours off Jordan River with two occupants on board, and the tug Sea Monarch was sunk in a collision with the Ss. Zenon off Port Townsend last night.

Kathleen's Mishap

It was shortly after the Princess Kathleen had backed out of the C.P.R. dock at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon on her regular run to Seattle, that she drove on Hospital Rock, just off Songhees Point, in the Inner Harbor. She was turning around to steam out of the harbor when she ran bow on. The vessel was able to pull herself off under her own power a few minutes afterwards. The ship was going dead slow at the time of the mishap. The tug Hope, of the Island Towing & Barge Company, stood by to lend assistance.

Tug Sea Monarch Sunk in Collision By French Vessel

SEATTLE, Oct. 9.—The tug Sea Monarch, en route from Port Townsend to Seattle with a barge, sank off Port Townsend tonight five minutes after being struck in the fog by the French steamer Zenon. The blow ripped the tug amidships. There was no warning, the visibility being only about fifty feet through the fog curtain. The powerful impact almost cut the tug in two. A Jacob's ladder thrown from the Zenon landed on the deck of the sinking tug, and over this Captain Thomson, Chief Engineer Robert Ross and nine members of the crew climbed to safety. The tug sank as the last man clambered aboard. Chief Engineer Ross announced that he was planning to bring libel action against the Zenon before she left Puget Sound waters, charging her with blame for the sinking.

Grand Jury Says No Bill in Case Of Janet Smith

Chinese Houseboy Accused of Murder of Scottish Housemaid Given His Liberty at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—No bill was found by the grand jury to an indictment charging Wong Foon Sing with the murder of Janet Smith.

At 12:45 o'clock today the jury filed into Assize Court and the foreman, Mr. Benjamin Dickinson, handed the Wong Foon Sing indictment to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

"No bill," announced His Lordship.

"All right, Mr. Foreman," added the judge, who passed no further comment, and immediately instructed the jury in another case, which they have yet to consider.

Wong Foon Sing, Chinese houseboy, who had been kidnapped and released only to be arrested for murder and who was committed for trial on that charge by Magistrate George McQueen, is now free.

Bail for $10,000

He has been on bail since Chief Justice Hunter made an order for $10,000 bail in June.

The Chinese houseboy was not in court today for the reason that he is

To Attend U.B.C. Dedication

SEATTLE, Oct. 9 — President Henry Suzzalo, of the University of Washington, will assist in the dedication of the University of British Columbia, at Vancouver, October 15 and 16, it was announced today. Dr. Suzzalo will also represent the Carnegie Foundation at the dedication. He is a trustee of the foundation.

Wonder If She Made This Statement On Oath!

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Anna Shunk, twenty-six, summoned into court today by her husband, John, fifty, for going out nights, complained that her relatives were so much related that relief in the form of diversion was necessary.

"My mother ran away from my father in Germany and came to America with Shunk," she said. "So I adopted my brother, Edward, fourteen, and became his mother. Then my mother died, and I came to America and married my stepfather, and we had a son, John, ten.

"So I am my elder son's mother and sister, my husband is my stepfather, and also the grandfather of his younger son. The sons are half-brothers, but the older is the uncle of the younger."

The court wrote it all down on a piece of paper and took the case under advisement.

Sixth Portfolio Taken By Premier Mussolini

ROME, Oct. 9.—The Cabinet today empowered Premier Mussolini to act as Minister of Finance while Count Volpi, the incumbent, journeys to America to negotiate for the funding of Italy's debt to the United States. This means that Premier Mussolini will hold six portfolios, those of foreign affairs, marine, war and aviation, and now that of finance, temporarily.

Cure Claimed for High Blood Pressure

Canadian Doctor Tells Medical Convention of Serum—Liver Extract

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 9.—A cure has been discovered for high blood pressure, according to Doctor William J. MacDonald, of St. Catherines, Ont., who is attending the convention of physicians of Central and Western New York, here. It is a serum.

Much work has been done by specialists since Dr. MacDonald first used the serum, a liver extract, last November. The research is being conducted in the Toronto General Hospital. Much remains to be learned before the new medicine can be placed on the market, the physician said.

Gas Is Declared Cause Of St. Louis Explosion

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—Gas, not ammonia, exploded in the basement of the Laclede Gas Light Company's building late yesterday, Director of Public Safety Brod declared today after an investigation of the disaster in which four persons were killed and more than fifty injured. No one could explain how the gas was ignited. The condition of the two injured was described by city hospital physicians tonight as "critical."

Early Snowfall Sets New Record in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—The first snow fell this afternoon. Dominion Observatory officials cannot remember any other occasion on which snow has appeared as early as October 9. The early dates in former years, as far as available records show, were October 29 and once October 19.

Blanket of Fog Descends on City With Minor Troubles in Its Wake

Victoria Enveloped in Smoke-Like Vapor at Midnight Last Night, Discommoding Pedestrians and Motorists—Interesting Explanation of Failing Lights

AT midnight last night, for the second time in twenty-four hours, suffocating fog descended for a short time upon Victoria. Crawling in from the Strait of Fuca, it gradually enveloped in a smoke-like vapor all the lower levels of the city, obscuring street lights, obliterating landmarks, and making difficult the way of the late pedestrian and motorist.

Not often does Victoria experience a fog of such thickness. During the whole of yesterday the visibility at sea was bad, resulting in seven mishaps to shipping. Fog at sea is not so unusual, but it is seldom that even slight traffic accidents can be attributed to this cause here. Yesterday there were at least three. And the sum total of delays occasioned by the fog would make interesting reading if one could get the combined experiences of drivers of motor-deliveries, taxis, and other conveyances who had to sacrifice speed to discretion.

One of the most interesting as well as inconvenience of the fog's effects was the temporary suspension of the city's lighting system. The failure occurred first at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Not many people were affected by it at that hour, but the whole city was thrown into brief panic when the lights suddenly flicked out at half-past six last evening. In most homes it was just about dinner-time, and distress telephone inquiries received at The Colonist hinted at steaks and sauces burning up in the dark while the housewife groped her way about the pantry or the basement in search of long-hidden candles.

When Good Is Bad

The explanation offered by the B.C. Electric Company officials, who are the city's caterers in the matter of light, is that the fog, somewhere in the Sooke district, put the current

Radio Concerts Heard From Afar Cheer Besieged French in Syria

BEIRUT, Syria, Oct. 9.—A concert broadcast from Pittsburgh and dance music from the Savoy Hotel, in London, cheered the flagging spirits of the besieged French garrison of Suedia, relieved recently after a two-months' seige by the rebel Druse tribesmen.

This became known through the report of the garrison's commander, Col. Miller, who wrote: "Radio constitutes one of the finest defensive weapons that a besieged unit can possess. It renders at times more service than a battery of artillery. It has a great influence on the morale of the troops, dispelling that feeling of isolation and abandonment, so difficult to overcome."

Col. Miller's diary shows the Suedia garrison was in constant wireless contact with the outside world.

"Yesterday we heard the jazz band of the Savoy Hotel in London," he wrote. Another entry reads: "During the night we heard the station of Pittsburgh. We are sorry the weakness of our sending apparatus prevents us from thanking the Americans for an excellent evening."

Ss. Princess Mary Brings $400,000 In Gold Bullion

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—Recalling the heyday of the Klondike, the Ss. Princess Mary brought south with her on her last trip the largest single shipment of gold for a number of years. Nearly $400,000 in precious metal was carried in the strong room of the steamer on her arrival in port on Monday. The bulk of this was from Dawson, but it also included some from Atlin and other northern mining camps.

Suspected War-Bride Murderer Given Liberty

HALIFAX, Oct. 9. — Duncan Gammon, of Pictou, charged with the murder of his wife, Sarah Gammon, an English war bride, was dismissed from custody yesterday afternoon on "nolle prosequi" proceedings, following the return of a true bill against him by the grand jury in the supreme court here. Gammon was charged in the city police court with murder on April 11 in connection with the mysterious disappearance of his wife, who had been missing since September of last year when she was supposed to have sailed from Quebec to visit her parents in Winsford, Cheshire, Eng. Attempts to locate the body of his wife have been unavailing.

Destitution Reported on County Mayo Island

BELFAST, Ireland, Oct. 9.—The population of Achill Island, off the coast of County Mayo in Western Ireland, is being ravaged by consumption and lunacy, it is established by an inquiry held by a Free State inspector. Patrick O'Donnell, county counsellor, declared that unless the government transferred at least eighty-five per cent of the inhabitants to more favorable surroundings, disease and privation would go far toward exterminating them. During the inquiry the courtroom and courtyard were packed with cripples, orphans and aged persons who told pathetic tales of destitution and hunger.

Germany Asks Concessions From League

Gentlemen's Agreement Designed to Lessen Responsibilities of Membership Is Sought by Spokesman

No Wish to Share In Punitive Wars

France and Britain Shy at Teuton Suggestion—Issue Regarded as Crucial One of Conference

LOCARNO, Oct. 9.—A gentlemen's agreement for Germany, designed to lessen her responsibilities as a member of the League of Nations, was the problem wrestled with today by the Locarno Security Conference. It was not an easy matter. France did not like it, Great Britain preferred to have nothing to do with it, but Germany pushed the idea of such an agreement vigorously.

The plan is that the Allied powers, all members of the League Council, could undertake to bring into existence at Geneva some reservation to Article XVI. of the League covenant whereby Germany would be free to abstain from punitive expeditions ordained by the League against aggressor nations.

Tomorrow's plenary sessions doubtless will throw some light on the issue, which may be referred to as a crucial question of the conference, for if Germany can get into the League it is generally presumed that France would be content with a special declaration proclaiming her Eastern alliance inviolable.

Secret conversations between the leaders marked today's feverish activities. Everybody was optimistic except the Germans, who were described as pessimistic for home consumption. The feeling here is that Germany "wants something."

The German delegates hesitate about returning to Berlin shouldered with an agreement to join the League, but with empty pockets. The Germans, however, attach such vast importance to the League issue that they suggested today a special session of the League Council be convoked at Locarno to consider Germany's demands as regards to her entry into the League.

Forty-Five Contest Manitoba Ridings

Conservatives Lead With Fifteen Candidates in Field—Liberals Fourteen

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—Forty-five candidates have entered the lists to date to contest the seventeen Federal constituencies in Manitoba, and prospects are that this number will be increased at nomination conventions still pending in rural seats. Conservatives lead in point of numbers with fifteen candidates in the field. Liberals have fourteen, Progressives eleven and Labor five. Three-cornered contests are slated in twelve ridings. Brandon is the only constituency with a single candidate, Robert Forke, Progressive leader, still being unopposed.

The majority of the candidates have already started their campaigns, but with the leaders of the three parties holding the Western stage, the local contests have not warmed up to any marked degree.

The women of Winnipeg are showing an unusual interest in the campaign and a number are doing active electioneering. It is estimated that women outnumber the men on the revised Provincial voters' lists, unofficial figures showing that in some districts women predominate by a substantial margin.

Search for Murderer Continues

SEATTLE Oct. 9.—A Seattle Times dispatch today stated that in search for John W. Smith, a cook accused of participation in assassination of Thomas Dovery, editor, in Kelso, Wash., June 19, a man had been arrested at The Dalles, Ore. Absence of three fingers was a mark of identification.

DENVER, Oct. 9.—Hugh O'Neil, former managing editor of The Denver Times and once connected with Eastern newspapers, died here last night. He was fifty-three years old. Mr. O'Neil became managing editor of The Times in 1908. He was stricken blind in 1914 and began the study of law, being admitted to practice in 1920.

Three Escaped Men Captured In Manitoba

Police Net Trio of Prisoners —Two Fugitives Still at Liberty—Farmers Aid Authorities

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—John Stanton, George Labodiuk and Alex. Shupriuk, three of five men who escaped from prison here Monday, were recaptured today at Silver Plains following information given the provincial police by farmers that three suspicious characters had been seen in that vicinity.

A provincial police squad dispatched to the scene took the men into custody.

No details were available early tonight as to the actual manner in which the capture was made.

Stanton faces a murder charge in connection with the brutal "hammer" murder of John Penny, seventy, here, December 19, 1922. The aged man was beaten to death with a hammer and robbed.

Shupriuk is held in connection with a murder at Inwood, Manitoba, while Lobodiuk has to face trial on charges arising from a shooting and holdup in St. Boniface.

The two prisoners still at large are A. T. Blake, who was serving a sentence following conviction on charges of false pretences, and who had been characterized as "the king of fakirs," and Archie Mackenzie, held for robbery.

No Move Yet in Dr. Boak's Case

Counsel for Medical Man Is in Vancouver Awaiting Civil Appeal on His Behalf

The disposal of the appeal taken on behalf of Dr. E. W. Boak by the Court of Appeal of the Province had the result of confirming the conviction against the local medical practitioner with the sentence of imprisonment that it carries.

Mr. W. J. Taylor, K.C., counsel for Dr. Boak, is in Vancouver, where the Court of Appeal is sitting. No word has been received locally as to whether he has any other move to make in the courts other than the appeal which he is taking against the striking of the name of his client from the directorship in the Victoria Jockey Club, which is connected with the case, inasmuch as the conviction is taken as the basis of this action.

An appeal from the decision of Mr. Justice Gregory confirming the action of the club as being within its rights under the rules of the club is entered to be heard at the sitting of the Court of Appeal in Vancouver. This appeal will come up in due course and it is announced that should the decision again be against Dr. Boak, leave will be asked as a matter of course, to take the matter to the Privy Council in the hope that the main question of the trial for manslaughter may be brought under review.

Pending the appeal it is understood to be questionable whether any stay can be secured against the order of commitment being carried into effect.

Dr. Boak Asks New Trial

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—On the eve of preparing to serve a four-year term in New Westminster penitentiary for manslaughter, Dr. Eric W. Boak has petitioned the Minister of Justice for a new trial. The petition left Vancouver on Thursday evening for Ottawa.

Mr. John Nelson to Become Supervisor of Company's Public Relations

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—John Nelson, British Columbia journalist, will leave at the end of next week for Montreal, where he will take over the duties of supervisor of public relations for the Sun Life Company. Mr. Nelson has long been connected with British Columbia newspapers, having been an executive of The Victoria Times, The News Advertiser and The World of Vancouver. He has recently done considerable research work on Pacific relations with the Orient and attended an important conference at Honolulu.

Melba Returns to Australia

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Dame Nellie Melba, famous prima donna, who has been living in England for a considerable time, in announcing her return to Australia, says she may possibly enter politics in the Commonwealth. Dame Melba, "The Australian Nightingale," was born near Melbourne, Australia, and took her stage name from that city. She is sixty-six years old.

Europe to Take Ten More Years To Regain Feet

Good Progress Being Made, However, Says Sir John Power — Empire Policies Defended by Noted Briton

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—"Conditions in Europe on account of the war are all out of gear and in my opinion it will take another ten years to reach normalcy. Nevertheless, good progress is being made," said Sir John Power, one of the founders of the British Institute of International Affairs and a generous donor to British institutions, today. Sir John, with Lady Power, has arrived in Vancouver in the course of a lecture tour of Canada. He is a man of wide experience in European affairs and a student of Far East conditions.

Sir John disagreed altogether with the Wilsonian theory of self-determination for small nations, saying that "Great Britain's policy of rule in Oriental countries over which she holds dominion, is right.

Not in It for Gain

"The East," he added, "needs administrators, not missionaries. If our Empire is take up the task thrust upon her to take care of backward races, we must not relinquish that task. Anybody who says the British Empire is in this business for gain, tells an absolute lie."

As regards conditions in the Old Land, the distinguished visitor, while admitting that things are "out of gear," as he expressed it, took a most optimistic stand.

"It is all nonsense when you hear England is going down," he said.

Getting More Trade Than Ever

"Great Britain is actually getting more world trade than before the war. And there is plenty of profit, too, but half of it goes in taxation.

"But we shall never get back to normal until there is peace in Europe.

"However, the greatest ambassador of peace is the tax collector, and we in England are taxed heaviest of all.

"It may seem an anomaly, but there are actually more people engaged in industry in the Old Country than before the war. Of those available to work, fully ninety per cent are working. There are only 1,300,000 workers out of employment."

Garden of World in Northern Country

Colonel Scott Williams Praises Yukon and British Columbian Septentrion

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—"That country is the garden of the world, and gives promise of an amazing future," declared Colonel J. Scott Williams, who returned to Montreal yesterday from a six-months' airplane prospecting expedition—the first of its kind—for gold in Northern British Columbia and the Yukon.

Colonel Williams speaks in glowing terms of the discoveries made, describing "mountains" of gold, silver and coal.

Piloting a 450-horsepower flying boat, Colonel Williams said more territory had been covered in six months than could have been explored in a lifetime by any other means. He expressed much regret that it had been United States capital that had financed the expedition, declaring:

"Canadian pilots will soon be following the machinists and mechanics across the border."

BRANDON, Man., Oct. 9.—Robert Forke, Progressive leader, has contracted a severe cold and was forced yesterday to abandon a scheduled trip through his constituency. It was stated that he would probably be confined to his home at Pipestone until his speaking campaign begins next Monday at Woodnorth. He will then begin an extensive tour of the entire constituency.

Agents Issue Aids To Fire Prevention

Further Warnings to Public to Take Steps to Prevent Outbreaks

The annual campaign against the fire fiend does not end today, although this is the last day of Fire Prevention Week. Every effort should be continued throughout the year to keep the fire loss down to a minimum. Fire Prevention Week is devoted annually to cutting down losses through adoption of practical methods of fire prevention. Here in British Columbia three cities have been practically destroyed by fire, including the City of Vancouver in July, 1886, caused by a neglected clearing fire; the destruction of New Westminster in September, 1898, caused by sparks igniting a hay storage, and the City of Fernie in 1910 from forest fires.

Have Victoria citizens heeded the request to clean up and prevent fires before the Winter sets in? The Dominion Fire Commissioner has prepared a number of suggestions on this most important subject and these are passed on by the Victoria and District Fire Agents' Association so that no excuse can be made for not protecting property and lives. Among them are:

Ashes should be kept in metal receptacles and never in paper or wooden barrels or boxes.

Oily rags or waste should be kept in standard metal waste cans and contents removed or burned each night.

Rubbish should never be allowed to accumulate in or near buildings.

Gasoline, naphtha and other volatile oils should not be kept in buildings and should be used only with extreme care.

Steam pipes should be kept clear of all wood and other combustible material.

Open flue holes should be protected with sheet iron, or, better, be bricked up.

Electricity, when improperly installed, is hazardous; lamp cords should not be hung on nails or wrapped around piping; paper shades should never be used. Do not tamper with electrical installations.

Stove pipes should be securely rivetted and run direct to brick chimneys and never through floors or partitions; protect floors under and above stoves with brick, cement or sheet metal.

Stairways should be kept closed and clear at all times; never place any stock or shelving thereon.

Aisles of good width should be maintained; never pile stock in front of windows or against doors, as it handicaps the firemen in case of fire.

Fire doors and shutters should be closed every night and stock should never be placed so as to hinder the ready closing of fire doors. Use metal frames and sash with fire glass. See that all fire extinguishing apparatus is in good working order.

Damp lampblack will spontaneously ignite. So will slack and pulverized coal and charcoal, when wet.

Use safety matches; they cost no more.

Requiring all doors to swing outward in public buildings, schools, theatres, etc., may prevent the loss of many lives.

All buildings over two stories in height should be provided with fire-escapes and standpipes for fire department use.

Victorian Finds Britain Sheds Sloth of Ages

Mr. John Harvey Writes Interestingly of Progress of Engineering and Chemical Works in Old Country

Sees England Awakening

Britain is grappling in an extraordinary way with the many exceedingly difficult problems left as a legacy after the war, says former Alderman John Harvey, in a letter written to The Colonist from Hockley, Essex, England, where he is visiting.

Few people are aware here that Mr. Harvey was brought up in a mechanical trade in a large English firm, so that his interest in engineering and chemicals will be better appreciated.

"In the board rooms of leading firms," Mr. Harvey says, "the sales departments, the workshops, the research laboratories, there is to be seen a revival of that old spirit which earned for England the sobriquet of "Industrial England." England is now settling down to the trade war as it settled down to the other war. Manufacturers are now getting to work, utilizing scientific research, opening out new avenues of development, refusing to believe that a bad time is a period to sit down and grumble.

Aniline Dyes

"Before the war 80 per cent of the dyes were imported, today the British dyestuff industry is turning out 80 per cent of the requirements. Exports are largely now in excess of imports. Twenty-two thousand hundredweights of dyes have been imported, compared with 47,000 hundredweights exported in the first five months of the year.

"Scientists are closely watching large works which have been erected on the northeast coast, where there are vast quantities of coke oven gases waiting to be used in the production of synthetic ammonia, which may prove another chapter in industrial romance. There are many outlets in industrial chemistry if once cheap hydrogen can be obtained.

"British chemists have been at work since the war solving the problem of obtaining nitrates by synthetic processes, and a successful factory has been established. Taking this in connection with a new process of manufacturing nitric acid, this country is almost self-supporting in the manufacture of these essential products.

Fine Chemicals

"In fine chemicals British manufacturers have now exceeded what the Germans were doing in 1914, although at one time there was a fear that home laboratories would be brought to a standstill.

"Britain is looking to the day when the country will have a home-produced motor fuel, and power development is also to be noted extensively.

"Great manufacturing concerns which for years had exclusively devoted themselves to one form of product are now directing their energies into new channels. One example is the famous firm of Armstrong, Whitworth & Company, who are now making far more than guns and ships, upon the principle that if there is little demand for guns, there is no sense in making them."

Use of Home Products Will Be Considered by Groups of Chamber

The Federated Women's Institutes, through the national convener, Mrs. Nellie Henderson, has referred a report to the Chamber of Commerce dealing with the subject of patronizing home industries. The subject was dealt with at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber yesterday.

The communication referred to some of the reasons assigned as to why home manufactured goods were not more commonly favored. Among these was the complaint that the home goods were not available when wanted.

Mr. D. W. Campbell felt that the real trouble, in many instances, lay in lack of co-operation between the manufacturers and the wholesalers. He believed that if the question went to the retail and the wholesale groups of the Chamber a satisfactory consideration could be given the letter.

The suggestion was acted upon.

Chamber of Commerce Enrolls Twelve More Members During Week

Twelve new members were received into the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of the directors yesterday. This increase, said Mr. Fred McGregor, chairman of the committee having the drive in charge, represented the addition to the membership since the previous meeting, but he added that there were a lot of good prospects.

The Rotary Club had undertaken to start out on a drive on Monday which, he felt, would add a large number more to the list. During the course of the drive there has been ninety-two new members enrolled.

Subjects Reported Upon To Chamber of Commerce

At the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, several matters were reported to the body from the group divisions. Included in these was the report that in the matter of the Sidney wharf improvements the matter had been returned to the Sidney Board for consideration relative to utilizing Roberts Bay for small craft.

The agricultural group reported it had recommended against giving financial aid to the Chinese Exclusion League, and that a committee would report later after investigation as to whether there should be inspection each morning of delivery wagons peddling produce.

Lewis, of 1006 West 38th Street, Los Angeles, was instantly killed this morning when the car in which she was riding with a party of friends turned turtle about two miles south of Sutherlin, Ore. Walter Smith, another occupant of the machine, was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

Business Men Will Meet in Winnipeg

Gathering of National Character Called for to Discuss Questions of Import

A gathering of representatives of Boards of Trade throughout Canada will be held in Winnipeg next month. The convention will open November 16 and be continued for three days. The object in view is to discuss questions of a national character with the object in view of reaching satisfactory conclusions with respect to matters affecting the Dominion.

The preparation of a programme looking to the outlining of subjects to be dealt with is in the hands of the Boards of Trade of Montreal and Toronto. The directors of the local chamber will, through a committee, arrange for the presentation of resolutions to the meeting.

The matter of being represented at the gathering by delegates was left over by the directors yesterday until a later date when it was suggested that some members of the chamber might be going East and be able to attend this meeting.

Quality

The most urgent requirement in Canada's Agricultural Products

CANADA produces every year large quantities of wheat, oats, barley, butter, cheese, bacon, beef, eggs, apples, potatoes, grass seed and clover seed that she cannot consume. Her natural outlet for these products is, of course, Great Britain—the one great consuming country of the world with an open market.

Unfortunately, nearly every other country with any surplus of food products seems to want to send its surplus to this same market.

The keenness of the competition on this, our only market, and the energy and resourcefulness of our competitors began to impress themselves upon the Department of Agriculture some time ago, but it is only within very recent years that the real and only way to grapple with this problem has been discovered, or at least put into effect. This Department now believes, as do also most of the farmers of this country, that the "grading" of our agricultural products is the policy and practice that is seeing us through the struggle and will assure us of our rightful place on the British market.

"Grading" means the classifying of products, whether they be hogs, butter, cheese, eggs or anything else, into what might be called in a general way "BEST", "GOOD", "FAIR" and "POOR" classes.

These exact words are not used in describing the grades, but that is what is meant. The purpose served in grading is threefold—

(1) Educational. When the producer sees the relative quality of his product he is spurred on to maintain that quality if it is the "best" or to improve the quality where necessary.

(2) Fair Play. When products are not graded the inferior article for various reasons often brings as much as the superior article, and the credit and advantage of putting the superior product on the market is lost to the one who really deserves it.

(3) Facilitating Trade. The dealer learns to have confidence in the article he is buying and buys more freely, because it is guaranteed by grading, and gradually everybody gets to know what the "best" article really looks like or tastes like. In short, grading brings about standardization and ensures to the producer the best price.

Canada now grades her cereals, grass seeds, hay, potatoes, apples, eggs, butter, cheese, wool and bacon hogs. The results have been in every case beneficial and in some cases quite markedly so, even though the grading system has been in effect in some cases for only two or three years, thus:—

Cheese—Grading began April 1st, 1923. Canadian cheese the year before had fallen into such disfavour on the British market that New Zealand cheese was quite commonly preferred. Today Canadian cheese commands cents per pound higher than New Zealand.

Butter—Grading began same time as for cheese. The reputation of our butter was then indeed at low ebb. Canadian butter today, while not the best on the market, is rapidly improving in quality and gaining in reputation.

Hogs—Over two years ago the Department of Agriculture began to grade live hogs at the packing houses and stock yards. The 10% premium paid by the packers for "select" bacon hogs as against "thick smooths" as classed by departmental graders has done wonders to improve the quality of our hogs and develop the bacon industry.

Best Canadian bacon, which ordinarily was quoted two years ago from 10 to 18 shillings a long hundredweight below Danish, has gradually grown in the estimation of the British wholesale buyer until it is now quoted at only from 1 or less to at most 5 or 6 shillings per long hundredweight below the best Danish.

This improvement in price is, of course, due to quality and has come about very gradually, the spread narrowing down by a shilling or two a month until now it is not at all a rare occurrence to see best Canadian selling on a par with the Danish article.

Eggs—Canada was the first country to grade and standardize eggs. These grades and standards apply not only to export, interprovincial and import shipments, but also to domestic trading.

The basis is interior quality, cleanness and weight.

Standardizing Canadian eggs has established confidence between producer and consumer and between exporter and British importer, and has resulted in a greatly-increased demand for the Canadian egg both at home and abroad.

Other products might be mentioned where grading has worked to the great advantage of the producer and to the advancement of Canadian agriculture.

Already Great Britain recognizes our store cattle, wheat, cheese, eggs, apples and oats as the best she can buy.

It is for us to so improve our other products, particularly our butter and bacon, as to bring them also into this list of "the best on the British market" and consequently the highest priced.

Grading enabled us to do this for cheese, wheat, eggs and apples.

Grading is helping us to do it for butter and bacon.

Quality Counts

Quality is thus the first objective for the Canadian export trade, and, then steady, regular supply. It it along these lines the Department of Agriculture is working by educational methods, and the result of this policy is seen in the growing volume of Canada's agricultural exports. Look at these figures :—

HUDSON BAY RAILWAY

Mr. Mackenzie King has promised the voters of Manitoba that, if they elect sufficient supporters of the Liberal Government, the Hudson Bay Railway will be completed. His promise in this respect is made without reckoning the sentiment that exists towards this project throughout the rest of Canada. What he has promised is in the nature of a political bribe and we are inclined to think that it is something that Mr. King could not implement, if heading a Government, in face of the opposition that it is certain to be forthcoming from Quebec, to say nothing of the Maritime Provinces' attitude.

In effect, that railway would cost perhaps $25,000,000 to complete if the provision of terminals, etc., is taken into consideration. It would cater to traffic, when the grain was moving, for perhaps just six weeks of the year during which time Hudson Bay would be sufficiently free from ice for navigation purposes. Allowing the possibility that the route for miscellaneous cargoes might be open from three to four months of the year, that would be all. The railway for the balance of the twelve months would run to a terminal where there was no consuming population and there would be no means of moving overseas any freight it might carry, unless indeed the proposal might be to carry it by ice-breakers to navigable water.

Canada today is laboring under the cost of maintaining the Canadian National Railways. Were the Hudson Bay Railway completed every ton carried by that route would mean so much the less would be available for carriage on the existing National System. That system would inevitably lose more money than it is losing at present and the country would be proportionately the more heavily involved in debt. From the standpoint of the Pacific Coast the Hudson Bay Railway would divert traffic, and especially the grain traffic, from being routed this way. That would serve to explain why Mr. Mackenzie King made no mention of his promise to complete the road during his visit to British Columbia. He knows that the people of British Columbia regard such a proposed expenditure as an exhibition of wanton extravagance. If Manitoba wants the road to be completed and believes that it is essential to that province's trade development then the logical procedure is for Manitoba to undertake the work herself instead of asking Canada to pay the price. From the national standpoint it is difficult to see how, with Canada's railway burdens what they are, the taxpayers should be mulcted to the tune of $25,000,000 to provide traffic facilities which would only be a factor in trade for perhaps less than a quarter of the year. The argument in favor of the Hudson Bay route is to provide a new seaway for grain. There are ample seaways today, and Canada is having no difficulty in disposing of her export stock of the commodity. Mr. Mackenzie King had four years in power during which he was wholly non-committal about the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway. Now that an election is on the tapis he is making contingent promises that sectional support will win sectional favors at the expense of the country as a whole.

INSINCERE PROPAGANDA

Senate reform is but a mere incident in the present campaign being waged by Mr. Mackenzie King. He has said there should be an age limit for Senators, but he does not say what that should be. This so-called policy of Senate reform was a plank in the platform of the Liberals when Sir Wilfrid Laurier obtained power in 1896. In the course of time, with the Liberals in power, the majority in the Senate was transformed into a Liberal majority, and then, no more was heard of Senate reform. In 1911 the Conservatives secured office and some years later, by the process of filling vacancies in the Senate, that body again had a Conservative majority. Once more the cry for Senate reform on the part of the Liberals became insistent. The general election of 1921 gave Liberals and Progressives (the latter always clamoring for Senate reform) a majority of over 130 over the Conservatives. With Mr. King in power no move was made, either by legislation or otherwise, to educate the people on the subject of Senate reform until an election was imminent.

It is very apparent that Mr Mackenzie King, or the Liberal Party, or both, are quite insincere on this subject. Mr. King himself has practically admitted that Senate reform will have been adopted when there is again a Liberal majority in the Upper Chamber. Thus it appears that party political reasons alone dictate his course of action in respect to the Senate. His original advocacy of this reform was a sop to the Progressives. He has been in the Prairies courting their allegiance so that it has been necessary for him to indulge in some generalizations on a subject about which it is obvious he has no steady convictions and in which his actions are governed alone by party politics.

A LABOR VIEWPOINT

The Canadian Labor World, a Labor organ published at Hamilton, is outspoken in its belief that the Tariff Question is the vital issue of the present election campaign. It contends that under a low tariff or free trade conditions the only way in which Canadian mills and factories and workshops can compete with the cheap labor of foreign countries will be by a general reduction of the living standards of the entire working class. Low tariffs mean long hours of labor and low wages. The Labor World considers all other issues of the campaign as secondary to the necessity of the protection that should be accorded industries. The railway problem, it says, is a question of more business and more people and since the present administration at Ottawa has failed to give Canada either more business or more people, a return of that administration to office cannot effect any solution of the railway problem. It says further that no party in office dare attempt to meddle with the Senate unless it has the sanction of all the provinces, and "certainly such sanction would not be easily obtained from either the Maritime Provinces or the Province of Quebec, because these provinces look upon the Senate as the protector of minority rights."

The London Free Press (Ontario) says: "It is beginning to look like a landslide for the Conservatives. If enthusiasm will win an election, the Conservatives in Western Ontario will carry every seat."

In France the problem of building up the birth rate continues to exercise the public mind. In the period April-June last there were 198,728 births, as compared with 190,315 in the same period last year. However, in a comparison of the two periods the total deaths in 1924 amounted to 146,617, whereas in 1925 the number was 158,855, so that in comparing deaths and births there was a population decrease.

Mr. Vincent Massey, a new member of the reconstructed Mackenzie King Cabinet, says that the world pendulum is swinging against Protection. The facts do not show this. Since the Great War 63 countries have raised their tariffs. The United States has raiser her's higher than ever before. Australia has just announced increased protective duties, and France has raised her's very substantially. In the world today the greatest prosperity prevails where there is the highest tariff.

The greatest fault of the American press is in giving first-class notoriety to nonenities. The newspapers of that country have been successful in putting hundreds of thousands of dollars in the way of persons who should be among the pariahs of decent society. Apparently any kind of publicity, and especially that of the most disreputable character, can be capitalized in the United States. There is no noblesse oblige recognized as the hall mark of get-rich-quick adventurers whom the press places on the road to wealth.

Although production is cheap and wages low in China it is admitted that the need of that country is a high tariff. Commenting on this Kinn Wei Shaw says in The American Review of Reviews: "It is sometimes alleged that China needs a dictator to rescue her from her present plight; but the real fact is that she is in need of a good and strong popular government. No government can be good and strong if it lacks adequate financial and military support. As long as China is fettered by a low tariff—and the Washington Conference provided for a maximum rate of only 12½ per cent—the financial condition of the Central Government cannot be much improved; and under such conditions, it could never become strong even under a dictatorship."

The value of a face and of facial expression is a factor of importance in the battle of life. In commenting on this The London Times says: "Every well-brought-up child knows that people who indulge in angry or bitter thoughts are apt to develop 'sour faces.' Nor are well-brought-up children alone in this wholesome faith. From time immemorial the world has consented to take men and women at their 'face value,' and has adhered doggedly to the belief that, in general, human nature becomes imprinted on human features. Thus there is a language of facial expression which is current throughout all peoples and to the vocabulary of which artists of every race have contributed. The possessor of a candid pair of eyes is accounted trustworthy in every land; the shifty gaze rouses the same suspicion wherever it falls. And so it is also with those qualities and inflections of expression which, by reason of their swiftness or subtlety, cannot be described in words. They are indices of character the value of which has been endorsed by universal experience."

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Sir Phillip Gibbs and Mr. John Galsworthy, two Englishmen of literary renown, have kindled the fires of controversy by suggeating that "Great Britain is through," which suggestion has been interpreted aa meaning that the Empire has begun to decline and inevitably must fall, just as all the empires which preceded it have declined and fallen.

* * *

We have read some of the works of Sir Phillip Gibbs and Mr. John Galsworthy, and as a result of reading those works we have reached the conclusion that the two eminent English literary men are not cheerful of soul. But brightness of disposition does not seem to be characteristic of many of the eminent English men of letters of the present day. We doubt if the works of many of the British literary men of the present day would be very popular or of very wide circulation if those eminent literary men had not entered into a bond of union and taken an obligation to laud and applaud all those works.

* * *

Mr. George Bernard Shaw apparently has been elected leader of the union of British Creative Artists. Mr. Shaw occasionally publicly proclaims his belief that Mr. H. G. Wells, who wrote a history of the world within the space of a month or two (a lamentable waste of time), is an author of extraordinary talent, and Mr. Wells and his gifted contemporaries all thereupon prostrate themselves before Mr. Shaw and worship him. Now there is no doubt whatever about the cleverness of Mr. George Bernard Shaw, nor is there any doubt that Mr. Shaw has written one of the trashiest books ever written by the hand of man, to say nothing about the hand of woman.

* * *

If such men were the moulders and leaders of public opinion in Great Britain today, we would be inclined to accept the statement that Britain is in a bad way, that as a world power in culture, commerce and in industry she is tottering and soon must fall. But we do not believe that the literary men of England who call themselves Creative Artists and proclaim their conviction that there were few Creative Artists before them, are real moulders and leaders of public opinion. We do not believe that "England is done." England is simply readjusting herself to new conditions. England has had to readjust herself to new conditions on several occasions during her history, and she has always emerged from such crises greater and more powerful than ever before.

* * *

"Of course England is not done," writes a critic of the doleful predictions of Messrs. Gibbs and Galsworthy. "There are more happy and prosperous people in England since the war than ever before. The children are bigger and healthier, and even the laborers take their ten days' holidays."

* * *

We cannot account for the sombre and doleful tales British Creative Artists of the present day write, nor for the distressing prophecies they make. If it were not for the corrective influence of Punch we can imagine what might happen to Britain with all her great Creative Artists moaning woe and lamentation. Punch is a merry old soul, who is always in a cheerful mood; and he has enlisted in his service a company of real Creative Artists, endowed with a keen sense of humor and with eminent literary abilities. Punch is rising to the occasion, and we believe he will succeed in "pulling England through," despite the strength of the literary forces fighting against him.

We have made an interesting discovery. We have discovered that it is possible to misjudge a great nation. We have not enjoyed the privilege of visiting the United States for some time. We are not likely to enjoy a visit to the United States for a long time, because high barriers have been erected along the frontier, and we are not as agile as we may have been and probably could not clear those barriers if we attempted to jump over them.

* * *

But in the times when it was quite easy to enter the United States we frequently visited neighboring cities. But for temperamental obstacles we might have been in the United States yet. Our short intercourse with the wonderfully cordial and extremely hospitable American people did not create an impress upon our mind that those people were a praying people. In fact, we should have said if questioned on the subject, that the American people "cared for none of those things."

* * *

Now we are obliged to confess that in that respect we misjudged the Americans. Commander Rodgers, pilot of the airplane which set out in the general direction of Honolulu and did not reach it, has convicted us of error. The Commander declares that he and his crew were saved by the prayers of the American people. Here is the interesting message of the Commander to the people of the United States and to the people of all the world: "When we were returning from Honolulu to Washington we were amazed by the number of people who told us in deep sincerity that they had prayed for us every day of the nine we were lost. One whole Sisterhood in California prayed an hour each night, a letter informed me. We believe the prayers of the people were answered."

Dear R. B. D.,—In reading your interesting column this morning, I noticed your reference to whin and wondered if it is the same as furze? This shrub grows abundantly (too much so in many places!) all over Ireland. In the Eastern Counties at any rate it is an even more glorious sight than the broom in Beacon Hill Park, and lasts much longer. (When is kissing out of fashion? When furze is out of blossom.) I remember one farm in Co. Wexford where they used to have a furze burning night once every three or four years, and we young folk had a grand old time with a plentiful supply of matches! But, all the same, I don't remember that the smell beat that of the fresh flowers! Perhaps whin is a different variety, which won't grow in Ireland. —Yours truly, S. Pike.

The whin of the South of Scotland is the furze of Ireland and the gorse of England.

"Abide With Me"

My great-grandfather, the Rev. Henry Francis Lyte, the author of the hymn "Abide With Me," writes W. Maxwell Ryte, was vicar of Lower Brixham, in those days a picturesque little fishing village on the shores of Torbay. He was the author of numerous poems and hymns, some of which are in "Hymns Ancient and Modern." During the latter part of his life he devoted himself to the service of the humble fisher folk of Brixham, among whom were many of his best friends. His labors undermined his health, but he persisted in his noble work until his health broke down completely under the strain and his doctor told him he must go abroad at once. He was dying of consumption. He preached his farewell sermon the following Sunday evening in Lower Brixham Church, and, after the service, walked slowly home to his house at Berry Head. It happened that on that night there was one of those glorious sunsets which are sometimes to be seen at Torbay. The sun was setting in a blaze of glory and the purple hills of distant Dartmoor stood out darkly against a flaming sky. In the foreground was Brixham harbor like a pool of molten gold. Several times on the way home the poet stopped to rest and to gaze on this wonderful manifestation of nature. We can well imagine his feelings. He had just said "Good-bye" for the last time to his parishioners, and he knew that he had only a few weeks at most to live. The setting day reminded him insistently of his life, which was drawing swiftly to its close.

It was during this walk that he prayed that before he died he might be allowed to write one message of consolation to humanity which would endure forever. On arriving home he went to his study and there and then wrote the immortal hymn which has enriched our language and brought comfort and consolation to millions. His prayer was, indeed, answered. No one who knows the circumstances under which the hymn was written can sing it without feeling some of the emotion which inspired the poet as he write about the eventide of his own life. The final verse, which is, perhaps, the finest and most beautiful of all, represents the triumph of faith and hope over despair:

"Hold Thou Thy Cross before my closing eyes,
Shine through the gloom and point me to the skies.
Heaven's morning breaks and earth's vain shadows flee,
In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me."

THE REALITY OF LIFE

Not when the halcyon days are flying;
Not when deep shadows creep along;
Not when the Summer winds are sighing,
Breathing of life, of love, and song.

Not in vain power and fancied riches;
Nor yet as slaves with drooping head;
Not as cold clay entombed in niches,
Hoary, alone, illustrious dead.

We are but dust, but dust created.
Out of the void like spectres rise,
Through life's short span with breath abated,
Fearful we think; nor may surmise.

Oft while the wheels are whirring,
Loud 'midst the hum of men,
Deep in our soul is stirring,
Something beyond our ken.

Victoria Water Supply

Sir,—In your issue of this morning (Thursday) you publish a letter signed by Alderman Shanks. The alderman purports to supply "authentic information concerning our water system and water needs; indisputable facts that should be in the possession of every ratepayer."

Your readers should know, therefore, that the statements made by Alderman Shanks are not authentic and that so far from being indisputable they are in reality false, misleading and indefensible. If the alderman writes with knowledge of his subject he knows he has attempted to conceal the facts. If he writes without knowledge he should spend time in learning rather than in teaching. In any case, nothing can excuse his misquotation from the water commissioner's annual report.

On page seventy, the water commissioner states that the metered services account for a daily consumption of 56.6 gallons to each customer. He also states that the average amount passing through the meter at Humpback Reservoir is 7,850,000, which is equal to 148.1 imperial gallons per head of population supplied. The difference between the 56.6 gallons at the private meters and the 148.1 gallons at the general meter is accounted for by (1) sewer flushing, (2) boulevard watering and similar unmetered services, and the unavoidable element of waste. Water consumption could be restricted to 56.6 gallons per day by the elimination of sewer flushing and by letting the boulevards revert to weeds. In this case disease would be rampant and the city depopulated. If, however, the public health and comfort are to be conserved, it will be necessary to continue to supply not less than the 148.1 gallons at present required.

It is well to notice, however, that 148.1 gallons is the average daily consumption and not the maximum daily service demanded in the Summer months. The maximum daily consumption amounts to 11,900,000 gallons, or 224 gallons per head per day. On at least one occasion during 1925 the Humpback meter showed a consumption of 12,500,000 gallons. Consumption during recent years has shown a steady increase of 500,000 gallons per day. If this rate of increase should be maintained the limit of capacity of the present flow-line will be reached in ten years.

Alderman Shanks mentions that the capacity of Sooke Lake is 21,000,000 gallons and seeks to infer that that quantity of water is therefore available. He does not mention that the maximum capacity of the present flow-line is but 18,000,000. It should not be necessary to remind the alderman that the capacity of the flow-line rather than the capacity of the lake determines the available supply.

It therefore appears that the city water commissioner has acted with commendable foresight in assuring the district of Greater Victoria of ample municipally controlled water supply for many years to come. The price is right and terms are reasonable. My advice to the citizens is to rally to the support of the men who have eliminated a private water monopoly by bringing sams under public ownership and control. In my judgment the acquisition of the Esquimalt waterworks at the price and on the terms which have been secured is the finest stroke of municipal business accomplished during my residence in the city.

Official Courtesy

Sir,—Comparisons are odious, I know, but after reading Mr. Gaue's letter in this morning's Colonist, I cannot refrain from writing to tell of our experience in coming to Victoria from the U.S.A. just a year ago.

Owing to a dense fog our steamer, instead of docking the previous night, did so early in the morning. As we were among the last to be examined by the British immigration office, and the captain anxious to be off, the immigration officer said he would have to continue the examination on the docks. Noticing that one of the party was a lady very advanced in years, he suggested that as he might be some time, and the wharf was cold and draughty, he should make the examination at the immigration offices. Calling a taxi we all, the officer, included, started off, intending first to leave our baggage at the place we were going to stay at. When we got there he asked if he should do the examination in our room, so as to save us the trouble of going to the office. He was so exceedingly considerate and apologetic for asking us what we might consider impertinent questions, explaining that he had to do so.

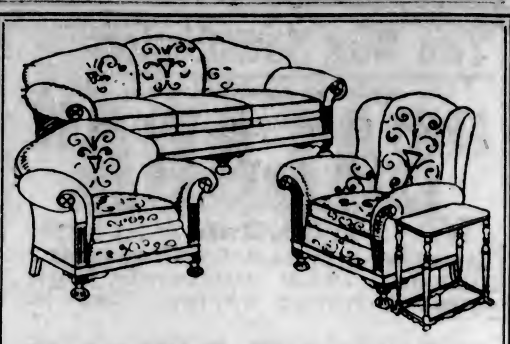

We have never ceased to be grateful to this immigration officer, and indeed to all the officials we had to come in contact with, coming as we did as "settlers," and though this is beside the question, never ceased to be grateful to the climate of Victoria, for the old lady, my mother, is better in health than she has been for many a long day.

To return to British official courtesy, an American friend came up this Summer from California, and was so struck by the courteous reception she met with at the hands of the customs officer at Sidney, she asked me if all British officials were like him. She wished that her own countrymen would take example by them.

Remarkable Case of Death From Explosion In Mouth Is Reported

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A remarkable case of a boy dying from an explosion in his mouth while he was undergoing an operation is reported from the Stratford Hospital. Doctors say they have never known of a similar case. In connection with the operation it was necessary to use warm air, supplied through a dental syringe, with ether and oxygen. The explosion occurred on the third application and an acute hemorrhage resulted.

The boy died within ten minutes.

An Elevator Man who made $10,000 in 20 years

Perhaps he brought the thrift instinct with him from Scotland.

But in any event his story drives home the point that financial achievement depends not so much on the job a man holds as on the regularity with which he puts away a portion of his savings and the guidance he receives as to the investment of his funds.

* * * * * * *

Jamie Lochlin landed in Montreal 20 years ago a penniless immigrant "frae Scotland". He secured a job as janitor and elevator man in an office building. His pay was not large, but out of his very first week's wages Jamie started a savings account in the Bank of Toronto.

He never missed making a deposit on pay day and he discovered that, with interest added, he had pyramided his account until the balance read $600 at the end of two years.

Then Jamie went to his bank manager and in good rolling Scotch accents said: "I hae worked hard for this bit o' money; noo I want it to work hard for me."

Through the advice of the manager then in charge at Montreal and the advice of subsequent managers, Jamie Lochlin's original $600, his further deposits and the interest accumulated from his good investments, have grown into an estate of $10,000.

Jamie continues to work as janitor and elevator man. He has stuck to the one job, with few increases in wages and none of them large. But he has made a business of saving and he has demonstrated the wisdom of systematically laying by a share of earnings and of making a financial confidant of one's bank manager.

The Bank of Toronto is proud of the many "Jamie Lochlins" on its saving ledgers and is always glad to meet others who wish to build a life competence as "Jamie" did. Before making your start, drop in and have a chat with one of our managers.

Sumas Land Owners Must Pay All Cost

Government to Introduce Legislation to Protect Treasury From Proposed Attempt

As previously announced by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, the British Columbia Government will not allow owners of land in the Sumas reclaimed area to shift part of the costs of such reclamation to the public treasury, it was announced at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. Legislation to this effect will be introduced during the approaching session of the House.

The Government holds that the owners must pay the entire cost of the work—which has benefited them. The owners, through a suit now pending in the courts, seek to invalidate the assessment fixed by the Government. The legislation planned for the Fall session would validate this assessment and thus remove all possibility of it being upset.

Legislation will be light at the coming session, it is believed. No outstanding bills at present are under consideration except a new insurance Act.

Major Longstaffe Delivers Address

B.C. Historical Association Hears Interesting Talk on Early Esquimalt Days

The annual meeting of the B.C. Historical Association was held last evening in the Archives Department of the Provincial Parliament Buildings, Mr. Beaumont Boggs, vice-president, in the chair. Brief reports of various committees were given, and the recording secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The feature of the evening was the reading of a paper prepared by Major F. V. Longstaffe on early days in Esquimalt, with a history of the first navigators and their voyages in Pacific waters. An interesting fact has been unearthed and verified by Major Longstaffe, who visited the Admiralty in London and had access to the records of British ships in B.C. waters in the '80's.

Esquimalt harbor first saw a British man-of-war in 1848, when H.M. Frigate Constance, Capt. G. W. C. Courtenay in command, anchored in July of that year. Up to that time Port Townsend, on the south side of the Straits, had been the port of call. The flag of the first British admiral to enter Esquimalt was seen in 1851, when the fourth-rate ship of war Portland, of fifty-two guns, arrived. Rear Admiral Fairfax Moresby was the commander-in-chief of this station at the time.

A vote of thanks was extended to Major Longstaffe for his most interesting and enjoyable address.

Last Chance Given Voters of Victoria

Court of Revision Now Sitting—Lady Reported Dead Refutes Charge

Final revision of the Federal voters' lists which will be used in the Dominion election, October 29, is now being made before Judge Lampman in the County Court and already more than a hundred names have been taken from the lists owing to the death or departure from Victoria of their owners. Several cases of duplication have also been discovered. The Court of Revision will convene every morning at 10:30 o'clock until October 14.

Perhaps the strangest case to come before the court so far is that of a young lady, a cashier in a local business establishment. Conservative party organizers, zealously going over the lists, struck off the young lady's name on what appeared to be substantial information that she had died.

Yesterday the supposed departed one approached officials with an indignant denial of her decease. The evidence she produced was so obvious that the court ruled the report of her death grossly exaggerated.

No Blame Put Upon Mr. Solly

Death of Mr. S. W. Girling Accidental, Says Coroner's Jury —Road Dangerous

The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mr. Samuel W. Girling, who met an untimely death at the corner of Carey Road and Harriet Road in Saanich, Thursday evening, brought in a verdict that death was accidental, and that no blame could attach to Mr. Leonard F. Solly, the driver of the automobile with which the unfortunate victim of the accident had collided. As a rider to the verdict, however, the jury recommended that the attention of the authorities should be called to the dangerous condition that exists at the corner, with the hope that it be remedied. The inquest was held at Sands Funeral Parlors before Coroner, Dr. E. C. Hart.

The evidence went to show that at this corner there is in the middle of Harriet Road a dense growth of brush which shuts out the view of anyone coming toward Carey Road until this latter thoroughfare is almost reached. There is, therefore, two narrow traveled parts on either side of the overgrown plot leading out of Harriet Road into Carey Road.

Motorcycle Shot Out

The evidence went to show that he was proceeding at an easy rate on the right side of Carey Road in the direction of the city. Suddenly a motorcycle shot out of Harriet Road, the driver appearing to have his head down. While it was hard to estimate the speed at which he was going, he was of the opinion that the motorcycle was traveling at a fairly rapid pace.

The cycle hit his car near the rear mudguard. When he stopped his car and returned to the spot Mr. Girling was lying on the road with the motorcycle resting on him. He was conscious, and complained of pain in his head. The accident occurred about 5:10, while there was still good light.

Victim Assisted

Mr. Horace Patton, who heard the crash from his place, was early on the spot. He assisted in getting help and having the man taken to the hospital.

Dr. H. Miller testified to attendance upon the victim, who was partially dazed when he first reached him. He became worse, and it was found impossible to do anything to relieve him. The base of his skull had been fractured.

Chief Hastings of the Saanich police recalled the events following his being called. He also described the condition at the corner of the road, stating that one would have to be nearly up to Carey Road coming along Harriet before being able to see the former road, owing to the brush growing in the middle of Harriet Road.

Travelers' Luncheon

Following up a practice initiated by the Victoria council of the United Commercial Travelers of America, No. 434, under which semi-monthly luncheons are held by the members, the local body gathered yesterday at noon in Spencer's restaurant. The event was made more enjoyable by the fact that several of the members of the Vancouver council were present as guests.

In connection with the luncheon greetings were extended to the visiting Vancouver members by Senior Councillor E. G. Rowebottom, and Mr. Frank Partridge rendered vocal selections, with Mr. Charles Scribner as accompanist.

City Hall Activities in Brief

Mayor J. Carl Pendray returned to his desk at the City Hall yesterday, after being absent on the Mainland for several days in connection with the campaign the city is conducting to attract Prairie residents to purchase city-owned property here. The Mayor asserted that the plans for this campaign were well under way, and that his mission to Vancouver had proven fruitful.

Alterations to a number of local stores and other premises will be made within the course of the next few days. Permits issued for that purpose at the City Hall this week include the following: King's Bakery, 1023 North Park Street, estimated cost $300, Edward Rainaldi, contractor; James Maynard, Stobart Block, Yates Street, estimated cost $2,125, Luney Bros., contractors; Hilliwell & McLean, Hart-Benn Block, Government Street, estimated cost $2,445, architect, Percy Fox, and contractors, Luney Bros.; Bishop & Worthington, Pemberton Block, Broughton Street, cost estimated to be $500.

Permits have been issued by the building inspector for two dwellings. Mr. Fulton, Lotus Street, will build a six-room frame and stucco dwelling at an estimated cost of $3,000, the work to be done by the Victoria Building Company, while a six-room frame and stucco dwelling will be built for Mr. P. E. Cowper on Howe Street, at an estimated cost of $2,800.

The lands committee of the City Council, in session at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, with Chairman Alderman Robert Dewar presiding, confirmed the sales of two residential properties, namely, a lot on Albert Street for $150, and property on Woodstock Avenue for $800.

The annual city tax sale which is being conducted by City Treasurer Smith is continuing, and to date the properties sold have attained the figure of nearly $20,000. This sum is higher than the amount attained during a corresponding period of 1924. The sale will be carried on for another week and it is anticipated that the 1925 total of sales and moneys received will exceed last year's figure.

The City Land Department is answering many inquiries concerning city-owned property. Much interest has been experienced in property in Victoria since the recent auction sale, and the department is busily engaged in giving information concerning same to prospective purchasers, as well as disposing of many pieces of local properties.

The Victoria City School Board will convene in business session next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, in the City School Board office at the City Hall.

Mayor J. Carl Pendray yesterday replied to the letter written him by Reeve Macnicol, of Saanich, in connection with water supply negotiations between the city and that municipality. The Mayor's communication was before the Saanich Council at its meeting last night at Royal Oak.

Obituary

JOHNSTONE—The funeral of the late Mrs. Euphemia Johnstone, who passed away at the family residence, 339 Obed Avenue, last Thursday evening, will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Mr. Robert Hamilton will officiate, and the remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery. The late Mrs. Johnstone was born in Cockenzie, Scotland, eighty-one years ago, and had been a resident of this city for the past thirty-four years. She is survived by four sons and thirteen grandchildren.

GIRLING—The funeral of Samuel (John) Mills Girling, youngest son of Mr. G. G. Girling, of Ralph Street, Saanich, will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. A. K. McMinn will officiate, and the remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery. The deceased young man was born in Woolwich, England, thirty years ago, and leaves to mourn his loss, besides his relatives, a host of friends.

ELLIS—Funeral service for the late Mr. Charles Henry Ellis will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. The remains will be laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park.

"White Union" Protests

ROME, Oct. 9.—The Catholic Confederation of Labor, known as the "White Union" to distinguish it from the Socialist "Red" Union, has issued a statement in "The Name of Christian Union Organizations of Italy." It firmly protests against an agreement between the industrialists and Fascist unions. It considers this "an offence to the right and duty, which not only the working, but all citizens possess in choosing the organizations to which they wish to entrust the legitimate protection of their economic and social interest."

Says Help Was Badly Managed

Cobble Hill Harvester Is Home From Lethbridge District—Too Many Men in Places

Mr. J. W. Archer, of Cobble Hill, who was in Victoria yesterday en route home after spending the season harvesting in the Lethbridge district, where he has been in the habit of going for some years, is critical of the lack of organization for harvest help on the Prairies this year. He says that both in the neighborhood where he worked and where work was halted by the early snowfall and in other places the organization of the harvesters was unsatisfactory. Men were brought out, he asserts, to places where they had no chance of employment, and soon became a charge on charity.

Mr. Archer asserts that the distribution of help was not well handled, and that there was not co-operation between local people who knew the dates of grain cutting, and the transportation companies. Unfortunately while a considerable amount of labor could now be absorbed in Southern Alberta, the early snowfall has hlated operations at a time when much grain is still to be cut.

Mr. Archer alleges that not only were Eastern men, who had come out for the harvest, stranded by this condition of affairs but that the difficult problem of employment was intensified by too rosy pictures being painted at cities on the American side, as a consequence of which Americans came up from Spokane and other centres to seek work in the harvest fields, and could not be employed. He blames the Federal Government for failure to provide employment, and to prevent migration from the United States into districts where the newcomers had no chance of employment.

He thinks the harvest in Southern Alberta better than for a number of years.

Financial Wolf Taken to Prison

J. W. Worthington, Fugitive, Is Taken to Penitentiary on Stretcher

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—John W. Worthington, "the Wolf of La Salle Street," who yesterday came back to Chicago to die, tonight was on his way to the Atlanta Federal penitentiary.

The "Wolf," whose career in frenzied finance netted him a fortune and impoverished thousands of investors of moderate means, was taken from the Federal Building to the railroad station on a stretcher and started for the prison to serve a term for using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

When seized by the police today the "Wolf" told newspaper reporters he had "come home to die." He has been ill of diabetes and said he was brought on a stretcher from his hiding place in Mexico where he fled from California.

Worthington's daughter Alice, who has been in the movies under the name of Jane Allen, wept as he was carried out of the hotel through the drizzling half-rain, half snow.

"It won't be long now," Worthington remarked.

A physician pronounced him fit for the trip to prison.

The results of his life's labor as a gambler, broker and finally fugitive from justice, are about $2,000,000 he says. And he wants to keep this for his daughters.

Beginning his fortune with a $5 bet on a racetrack, Worthington branched out into the brokerage business when he amassed enough money from gambling. He was apparently a reputable broker with a substantial fortune when the government, about five years ago, charged him with using the mails to defraud.

Worthington waged a long and bitter battle to escape the penitentiary. He was convicted and sentenced to serve two years in prison.

Apartment Block Sold for $40,000

Mr. H. J. Saunders, of Victoria, Purchases Mt. Douglas Block at Oak Bay Junction

The sale of the Mount Douglas Block at the junction of Fort Street, Oak Bay Avenue and Pandora Avenue took place yesterday, the building and land being purchased for the sum of $40,000 by Mr. H. J. Saunders, of this city, who has been a heavy investor in property here.

The Mount Douglas Building is of three stories, the ground floor being occupied by stores and the two upper floors by apartment suites. Mr. Saunders bought the block from the Hammond interests of Calgary, Mr. Hammond having purchased it some time ago for $35,000 from Mr. H. H. Roberts, who, in turn, had acquired it at a favorable figure from Messrs. Moore & Whittington, the original owners, the firm which erected the block prior to the outbreak of the war.

Opinion of real estate men indicates that the property involved in this deal has been steadily advancing in price, as evidenced by the recent sales. They say that the new owner is assured of a highly profitable investment with the advancing tendency in rents in all parts of Victoria and district.

Town criers are still used in some of the smaller villages of Europe.

Murder Blamed to Bootleggers

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. — Another murder was attributed by police today to the bootlegger-gangster feuds that have taken a steady toll of lives during recent weeks. Michael Pieroni, taxicab driver, was shot five times. The gunman, with two confederates, escaped. Pieroni apparently had been fearful for his life for he had shunned his usual haunts for two weeks. Relatives denied that he had been involved in bootlegging activities.

Arctic Trading Ship Reaches Dutch Harbor

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 9.—The Hudson's Bay Company's trader, the steamer Baychimo, arrived at Dutch Harbor yesterday after a trip around from the north coast of Alaska, according to radio advices received here today, where it was reported last month as fast in the ice, with little likelihood of release before Spring.

The vessel operates out of Vancouver and has a crew of about thirty men. It was feared that the crew would be forced to come over ice fields and land from Herschel Island, where the craft was caught.

Commission on Tariff Urged By Mr. Dickie

Conservative Candidate in Nanaimo Would Safeguard Interests of Consumers—Industry Protection Asked

"Keep Money in Country"

Advocacy of the formation of a special tariff commission, which would study the whole tariff question, advise the Federal Government as to what would prove an adequate tariff for Canadian industries and suggest ways to protect the consumers, in the event of the manufacturers attempting to take advantage of the higher tariff duties by charging too greatly for articles which they produced, featured the address delivered last night at Tillicum School by Mr. C. H. Dickie, Conservative standard-bearer in Nanaimo riding, who is seeking re-election to the House of Commons at this election.

Mr. Dickie was given an enthusiastic reception when he arose to address electors in the southern portion of his constituency last night. His address, which was punctuated with frequent applause, dealt mainly with the policy which the Conservative Party advocated at this time to restore the country to a state of prosperity.

Mr. Dickie told his hearers that he had done his best at Ottawa, and if he was returned by the electors he would continue to put forth his best efforts to promote the interests of his constituency, as well as those of the Dominion as a whole. If he was not re-elected, he would always have gratitude to his constituents for their faith and confidence in him in sending him to Ottawa at the last election.

"You're Going Back"

A voice: "You're going back all right. That is a certainty." Applause greeted this remark.

The candidate emphatically declared that a protective tariff, if necessary, even as high as the tariff wall erected by the United States, was the only policy which would bring prosperity to the people of Canada.

Mr. Dickie made a vigorous plea for protection of Canadian industries, stating that by such a policy more money would be kept in the country, work would be given to thousands of native sons, and better times would be experienced in this Dominion. He regretted the large migration of Canadians to the United States, and contended that the only way in which they could be persuaded to return and others prevented from crossing the border would be by the Dominion Government offering adequate protection to the manufacturers, who would thus increase in number and would employ more people in the various industries.

The speaker asked what the Mackenzie King Government had done to prevent migration to the United States. He said that it was sorrowful to him to behold boys and girls graduating from the schools of Canada, and finding no employment available in this country, having to cross to the Republic to obtain work.

Build Industrial Country

"Unless we build up in Canada an industrial country, send the right men to Ottawa, who use horse sense and are willing to put country welfare before personal welfare, Canada will certainly never make the progressive strides and enjoy the era of prosperity that she should experience," Mr. Dickie said, amid applause.

Hon. T. G. Coventry, Provincial Conservative member for Saanich, lauded Mr. C. H. Dickie, and urged constituents of Nanaimo Federal riding to return him as their representative at Ottawa. "Mr. Dickie is not a man who does a lot of talking, but when he speaks he talks right to the point. His address on the tariff question in the House of Commons has been considered one of the best speeches ever delivered at Ottawa on that important subject," declared Hon. Mr. Coventry.

Captain R. P. Matheson, Reeve of Esquimalt and Provincial Party standard bearer in that riding at the last Provincial election, speaking in support of Mr. Dickie, contended that electors at this time should apply the tariff question to local conditions. He asserted that the matter the Conservative Party was fighting for was development of this Dominion.

"The Conservatives have a national policy, one which is the same throughout Canada. Conservatives are unlike the Liberals, who are making promises to provinces throughout the campaign," claimed Reeve Matheson.

City & District

Auto Fines Imposed—Four auto owners who neglected to see that the rear lights were kept going, or who violated the parking regulations, were required to pay a total of $12 into the police court yesterday morning.

Resolution of Sympathy—The Saanich Council last night passed a resolution of sympathy with Road Superintendent G. G. Girling and his family on the death of his son, John Girling, who was accidentally killed Thursday night.

Harvest Festival—The first of the Harvest Thanksgiving services were held last evening, at 8 o'clock, at St. Saviour's, when the Ven. Archdeacon Laycock officiated, and special music was given by the choir. The church is beautifully decorated with corn, flowers, fruit and vegetables. The services will be continued Sunday, when the Rev. Mr. Cropper will take the morning service, and the Rev. Robert Connell in the evening.

Saanich Expenditures—Road and bridge expenditures in Saanich up to September 26 amounted to the sum of $55,125.38, of which $9,978.25 was the Government park and beaches proportion, making the net expenditure $45,287.13.

Saanich Fox Farming—In view of the numbers of applications sought for permits to establish fox farms in the Saanich Municipality, it was suggested by members of the Council that persons contemplating going into this business first find out whether a permit may be secured.

Rummage Sale—A rummage sale will be opened this morning, at 9:30 o'clock, by the Ladies' Guild for Sailors, on Johnston Street, two doors west of Broad Street. A great collection of clothing apparel, millinery, boots and shoes and other wares have been assembled. An unique feature is a female goat, seventeen months old, donated for the sale, which will be offered with the other articles.

Dance Tonight—The first of a series of public dances will take place tonight in the Chamber of Commerce ballroom, under the capable management of Mrs. Simpson, who has recently returned from the South. These affairs proved very enjoyable last season in the Alexandra Club and, judging from the present indications, a larger turnout than ever is assured for tonight. Ray Kinloch's four-piece orchestra will supply the latest music for the occasion, while refreshments will be available during the evening. Dancing will take place from 8:30 till 11:30.

Political Notes

Dr. Tolmie to Open Campaign on Monday Week—A Nice Point for the Minister of Public Works—27 Early Nominations

Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Conservative candidate for re-election in Victoria, and Dominion organizer for the Conservative party, will open his campaign here on the evening of October 19, it was announced yesterday by Major Gus Lyons, M.P.P., his campaign manager. Mr. Leon Ladner, Conservative candidate seeking re-election in South Vancouver, will be one of the speakers.

Mr. R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader in British Columbia, Col. W. W. Foster, of Vancouver, and Capt. R. P. Matheson, will support Mr. C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate seeking re-election in the Nanaimo constituency, at a public meeting to be held in the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, next Monday evening.

Doubtless moved by an incident of the day's foggy weather in Victoria Harbor, some of the Liberal stalwarts just before Hon. Dr. King took the platform last evening at the Liberal rally, jokingly asked him if it would not be a good time for the Minister of Public Works of Canada to promise to remove Hospital Rock from the map of the Inner Harbor!

The next political meeting in Victoria district will be that of the Oak Bay Conservatives, on Monday, when a special appeal will be made to the young people. Hon. S. F. Tolmie will speak.

Comox-Alberni is one of the five ridings in British Columbia where nominations will be made on Thursday next, instead of on October 22. There are twenty-seven ridings in the Dominion where nominations are a week earlier than in the other 214 ridings of the country. Four ridings in Canada are double member constituencies, three in the Maritime Provinces, and also the city of Ottawa.

Refund Said to Be Only Act of Grace

Saanich Will Ask City for Allowance for Water Over-Registration

The finance committee of the Saanich Council will seek more money from the city as a refund for over-registration by water meters in May, June and July. The municipality was paid $1,235 as a refund for August by the city. The figures upon which the council lays its claim were read at the council meeting last night and compared this year's consumption to that of last year. They are as follows:

	1924	1925
May	18,000,000	24,000,000
June	27,000,000	53,000,000
July	32,000,000	57,000,000
August	24,000,000	42,000,000

Water Commissioner F. M. Preston, in replying to a letter with regard to the over-registration, pointed out that the meters were owned by and under the care of the Saanich municipality and should be checked up to see that no overcharge was made. He claimed that the total sales being below the amount purchased was no evidence that the meters were over-registering, since no check was made on wastage.

"The amount of $1,235 offered you as a refund for the month of August," his letter stated, "is an act of grace only and not an obligation on the city's part."

Disappointed? Never Declares M. Caillaux

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 9.—M. Caillaux, the French Finance Minister, asked aboard his steamer at Plymouth tonight if he was disappointed with his debt mission to the United States, said:

"I am never disappointed. We can't all sign agreements like Mr. Baldwin."

(Stanley Baldwin, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, headed the British debt mission to the United States.)

Saanich Asks Action Anent Water Issue

Members Agree They Are "Fed Up" With Stalling on Part of City, and Appoint Reeve to Interview Mayor

The much discussed water question between Saanich and the City of Victoria occupied considerable time at the meeting of the Saanich Council last evening.

Councillors declared they were "fed up" with the long stalling off of any definite answer, and wanted some action immediately. To secure prompt decision, Reeve Macnicol was appointed to interview the Mayor at the city hall this morning.

Mayor's Letter

The Victoria view was set out in the following letter to the Reeve from Mayor Pendray:

"I have had numerous meetings with the special committee appointed to go into this matter and had hoped that we would have been able to submit a definite proposal which would be mutually satisfactory, ere this. In view of the fact, however, that your requirements for the next six months will only be for domestic purposes, I feel that no hardship would be caused your municipality if the question of water rates is allowed to stand over a little longer, and that, in due course, we will jointly arrive at a settlement that will be in the best interests of all.

"I am sure that you will realize that the arriving at a sale price, which will give the city some reasonable return, and yet be kept low enough to be within the means of your consumers, is not one that can be decided offhand. You can be assured that a final decision as to possible terms will not be delayed beyond the reasonable limit of time necessary for due consideration."

Reeve's Comment

The Reeve, in a letter to the members of the council, pointed out that the water question with the city had been dragging along since last March, and that no satisfactory settlement had been reached.

He declared there had been ample time to have the question of price settled one way or another, and pointed out that he had been put off time and time again. "Notwithstanding the apparent desire of the Victoria City Council, or some of its members, to settle this question," the Reeve's letter stated, "the same attitude of procrastination is being exhibited now, and any further delay in settling upon a price is, in my opinion, against the best interests of Saanich."

He thought, as far as the municipality was concerned, it had adopted a reasonable and patient attitude.

Councillors Stubbs and Hogan said they were in favor of writing the city demanding a direct reply and failing this to cut off negotiations.

Councillor Kirkham opposed this action on the ground that it would do no good and would probably antagonize the city. He suggested that the council employ some engineer with regards to looking into an alternata water supply. His orgument was supported, and following the appointment of the Reeve to interview the Mayor, the water committee was instructed to examine plans with a view of getting another water supply and also to look after the interests of the municipality in the negotiations with the city.

Daughters of England Report Many Activities

The Daughters and Maids of England, Princess Alexandra Lodge, No. 18, held their general meeting on Thursday, October 8, at the Harmony Hall, Worthy President Sister Bridges in the chair. There was a very good attendance of members, also several members of Lodge Primrose, No. 32, including their Worthy President Sister Joyer and Past President Sister Wyman. Sister Gates reported a very successful whist drive held on their last social evening.

New by-laws were discussed and passed, and will be sent to Grand Lodge for endorsement. Final arrangements were made for the bazaar, which is to be held on Thursday, November 5, in a downtown store, or at the Harmony Hall. The sewing bees are a huge success and in full swing, one being held last Thursday at Mrs. Gates', another is being held at Sister Baker's, 415 Jesse Street, in the afternoon from 3 to 5 and Monday evening at 7:30. A flower drill was held in the course of the evening, which netted a good sum for flowers and fruit for sick members.

The meeting closed with "God Save the King," after which refreshments were served by Sister Tyrell and her committee.

The "busy" beaver sleeps ten hours a day.

Arctic "Mounties" Make Long Patrols

Four Police Traverse Two Thousand Miles of Frozen North on One Trip Alone

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—A patrol covering a distance equal to one and a half times across the continent has been completed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, in the last year in the Cumberland Gulf-Baffin Land district. Four police under Sergt. Wright traversed on one trip alone 2,320 miles, traveling with dogs and sledges. One of the objects was to survey conditions at Keeveto, where two missionaries were murdered last year by Eskimo fanatics. The settlement was found orderly and free from crime since an example was made of the offenders.

TOKIO, Oct. 10.—The Central Silk Association estimates the approximate value of this year's cocoon crop at 770,000,000 yen, indicating an increase of 220,000,000 over 1924. The yen at the present rate of exchange is worth just under forty-one cents.

Notable Actors And Musicians Coming Here

Sir John Martin Harvey Will Appear in Victoria Next March; Mr. Cyril Maude Is Expected

Musical Features Strong

Victoria playgoers will again have an opportunity next March to see Sir John Martin Harvey, whose Canadian tour was such a success last year. Sir John will bring a repertoire of plays to Canada, and will divide his time between Vancouver and Victoria for three weeks when on the Coast, spending three days of each week in Victoria, giving an opportunity for all his plays to be presented, which was impossible when he last came to this city.

Mr. Maude is expected at some date early in 1926, but details are at present uncertain.

The bookings to date for the Royal Victoria Theatre indicate a strong season in musical plays, novelty features and also old favorites.

Two of the developments of trench comedies, The Originals, and the Dumbells, will appear during the season. The legitimate season will begin October 29, with "White Cargo." Among the bookings are "Blossom Time," a return of a favorite; "Abe's Irish Rose," G. P. Huntley's company in repertoire, "My China Doll," "No, No, Nanette"; Grace George in a new play, "Is Zat So," "The Student Prince," "Rose Marie," and other well-known offerings.

Musically the season promises to be exceptionally good, including Captain John Coates, the English tenor, who is now on tour, and features arranged by the Ladies' Musical Club, Zimbalist in November, Anna Case in December, and Germaine Schnitzer in February.

The season is not yet filled up, Mr. C. Denham, the manager, says, so that in addition to those listed, other offerings will be available to tempt the lovers of the drama and the musical arts.

Slight Shocks Felt On Both Seaboards

Quakes Shake Santa Barbara, California, and Also New England Towns

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 9.—A slight earthquake shock was felt this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The tremor was no more perceptible than was the vibration from the Pacific fleet's firing off San Pedro yesterday. Several hundred of these "readjustment movements" have been felt here since the big earthquake of June 29, and Dr. Bailey Willis, president of the Seismological Society of America, stated that they may be expected for some time to come, in the course of readjustments of the earth.

MANCHESTER, N.H., Oct. 9.—Slight earth tremors were felt throughout the Merrimac River Valley in New Hampshire about 9 a.m. today.

FRANKLIN, N.H., Oct. 9.—What appeared to be an earthquake shook houses and rattled pictures and dishes at 9 a.m. today. A sound like an explosion accompanied the shock, which lasted two or three seconds.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 9.—The Harvard seismograph recorded a thickening of the line made by the instrument at 8:56 a.m. today, continuing about a minute.

"It may be assumed from this," said Associate Professor Kirtley F. Mather, in charge of the instrument, "that any disturbance in New England this morning was purely local."

CAPITOL THEATRE Warden Lawes, of Sing Sing, has reached the screen in the person of John Harrington, one of the principal actors in Belasco's "The Dove," who plays the dean of the "college" on the Hudson in Thomas Meighan's current picture, "The Man Who Found Himself," directed for Paramount by Alfred E. Green, and now showing at the Capitol Theatre for the last time today. Harrington, a burly man of wide stage experience, recently made his screen bow in the part of a crafty fake blind beggar in Herbert Brenton's "Street of Forgotten Men."

COLUMBIA THEATRE Far out in the storm-tossed seas, a little vessel wallows convulsively in the troughs of the waves; rain slants over her decks to meet the rising ocean; the wind tears maniacally at her sails. Drama enough in just this to make a big scene in Hunt Stromberg's production of "The Fire Patrol," now being shown at the Columbia Theatre. But the real pictorial and dramatic power grips the audience when suddenly a tremendous blast of angry fire sputters from the hold of the ship and rains down upon the sea in a million sparks. Flames lick hungrily at the helpless boat—creeping mercilessly from stem to stern—until it is a ball of fire tossing dizzily on the sea.

DOMINION THEATRE Hollywood has a man of mystery. He is Raymond Griffith, the young man whom Paramount has launched as a comedy star in "A Regular Fellow," at the Dominion Theatre this week. Where he goes after he leaves the studio at night, no one knows. He is almost never seen dining at any of the smart places on Hollywood Boulevard, where motion picture folk are wont to be found. He lives at an exclusive men's club, but seldom can be found there. He is seldom seen at a theatrical opening, but he never misses a good production, screen or stage, that makes its appearance in Los Angeles. He will fight before he will talk about himself. He shuns social functions, yet it is admitted in Hollywood that not even Barrymore wears a tuxedo or formal evening attire better or more easily.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE The romance and mystery of the sea; the daring life of adventure led by a young girl who captains a rum-runner from the Bahamas to the American coast, and the excitement of outwitting the revenue officers, together with a terrific indictment of the lawlessness which has swept over the land as the result of the Eighteenth Amendment, is depicted on the screen at the Playhouse Theatre in "Forbidden Cargo."

COLISEUM THEATRE In closing "The Pink Lady," at the Coliseum tonight, the author and the stock company do so with regret. It has been a gala night every night of the week. "The Pink Lady," specially written for the Coliseum players, has proved an excellent vehicle for the vivacious ladies, the clever comedians and the talented singers of the company. Lionel Barrymore, playing the part of an unscrupulous politician who commits murder in an insane moment, gives a fine, artistic portrayal of a double personality in "I Am the Man," on the screen.

Four Ministers Promised West

Defends C.N.R. Expenditures

There was question after question. Somebody asked about the Scribe Hotel and the Prime Minister gave his answers. "Now why don't you ask me about the radios and the golf courses?" Mr. King flashed back to the laughter of the crowd.

"It's worth something," he added, with the crowd laughing and clapping again, "it's worth something to hear a speech like this over the radio." It was all right in the eyes of some people for the Canadian Pacific Railway to advertise, but it was all wrong for the Canadian National to go after business. "People have to know," he added, "that there are two railways in Canada instead of one."

"Above all questions which confront the Canadian people," declared Mr. King, "that of Canadian unity is by all odds the most important—how best we can act as Canadians first, Canadians last and Canadians always."

Canadian unity depended, he declared, on representation in the Parliament of Canada, which included representation in the Government, and the importance of the policies that might be enacted.

Court Reserves Judgment in Sowash Appeal

the issue to the jury to determine.

Mr. Harvey concluded his argument in behalf of Sowash shortly after luncheon, and A. M. Johnson, K.C., Crown counsel, began his reply.

"In future cases where operatives are employed, the Crown should inquire into their history. Baker might seem to have pulled the wool over the eyes of the police in this case," said Mr. Justice McPhillips, referring to the evidence that Baker had obtained certain information from police officers.

Mr. Harvey claimed strongly that Mr. Justice Morrison at the trial should not have told the jury to deal with the accused "in a coldblooded way." He contended this expression wiped out his instructions to give the accused the benefit of the doubt.

Chief Justice Macdonald objected to Mr. Harvey's quoting individual extracts from the judge's charge. "One must take the charge as a whole," he said.

Your Birthday

October 10.—You are much sought after by your friends, and very respected in your business affairs. You are a great home-lover, and are affectionate and demonstrative. Don't let ambition grow stronger than love. Never listen to idle gossip.

Your birth-stone is the opal, which means hope.

Your flower is the hop.

Your lucky colors are yellow and white.

I.O.D.E. Congratulate Women's Institutes on Work

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—Meeting here yesterday with a national president, Miss R. M. Church, in the chair, the national executive committee of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire adopted a resolution offering its congratulations to the Women's Institutes of Canada, through their president, Mrs. D. Watt, of Birtle, Man., "for their splendid efforts as exemplified by the display from the various provinces at the Canadian National Exhibition, 1925."

Another resolution which was adopted recommended to the provincial chapters that, with historical societies, they interest themselves in national monuments and records of points of interest in their localities, this work being part of the avowed objects of the order.

Bobbed Hair, Short Skirts Taboo Among Japanese Girls

TOKIO, Oct. 9.—Japanese fashions are set by the geisha girls. The cut of the kimono and the arrangement of the coiffure follow their dictates. There has been a noticeable trend toward Occidental styles. Short skirts and bobbed locks, however, will not be permitted by the powers that rule the geisha industry. Every Occidental kind of coiffure was prohibited after September 1. This regulation also applies to the dress.

Y.W.C.A. Hold Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Y.W.C.A. was held yesterday afternoon, with the president, Miss Hall, in the chair. After the devotional exercises, Miss Agnew reported on the progress of the building committee. The house committee reported 116 guests during the month and 2,646 meals served, also that special Winter rates would be made for transients. The membership committee reported six renewals and one new member, also that arrangements are now complete for its sale of work to be held on November 7. During the month the Travelers' Aid met 182 boats and assisted sixty-five people. The attention of the board was drawn to the world's week of prayer, November 8 to 14, special announcements regarding which will be made later. The girls' work committee stated that the syllabus for the Fall activities has been printed and distributed among the girls.

Weddings

Sacht-Kelsey

On Saturday evening, October 3, the Community Hall, Sayward, Salmon River Valley, Vancouver Island, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Lillian Ruth Kelsey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kelsey, was united in marriage to Mr. William Walter Sacht, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sacht. Both families are residents of the Sayward district. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George C. F. Pringle, of the United Church Mission. The bride, who was given away in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Duchesse satin with gold and silver beads and silver lace. Her veil of beautifully embroidered net was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. The bouquet was of Ophelia roses and pink carnations. Miss Evelyn May Kelsey, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of rose silk and carried a bouquet of pink asters and white dahlias. Miss Anna Ethel Kelsey was maid of honor and wore sand silk with bouquet of asters and dahlias. The brother of the groom, Mr. Louis Frederick Sacht, was best man. At an appropriate place in the ceremony the choir sang "The Voice That Breathed o'er Eden." The honeymoon will be spent in Vancouver, and the bride and groom will return to make their home in Sayward. After the wedding a most enjoyable informal reception and dance was held in the hall attended by about 150 people. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sacht, sr., and Mrs. Kelsey. The groom has the distinction of being the first white child born in the Salmon River Valley, his parents having taken up their homestead in big timber district thirty years previously, when there were no other settlers within fifty miles, and no roads. Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey are also old-time residents, having lived in the neighborhood for nineteen years. Guests from a distance included Dr. and Mrs. Moore, of Vancouver; Mrs. G. C. F. Pringle and Mr. Ross Price, of Vananda; Rev. Alan Greene, of Quathiaski Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Bendickson, Miss Bendickson and Miss Harvey, of Hardwick Island; Mr. Mason and Mr. McLean, of Rock Bay; Mrs. Dr. Malcolm and Miss Mary Malcolm, of Chefoo, China; and Constable Wm. Malcolm, R.C.M.P., of Winnipeg.

Twenty-One Cents Week Is Rental of Some Irish Cottages

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—Ireland owns more than 50,000 cottages, erected at the expense of the local authorities, to provide housing for laborers. The policy of their erection dates as far back as 1883 when Rt. Hon. T. P. O'Connor secured enactment of a bill for that purpose by the British Parliament, and it has since been largely extended.

Rents of one of these cottages in the Cork rural district is only twenty-one cents a week. Complaint is made that the wrong people are now occupying the Cork cottages. They were built for poor agricultural laborers, but it was stated at a meeting of the Cork County Board of Health that their occupants now include milk vendors, railway workers, masons, carpenters, rate collectors and school teachers.

Cost of Living in Irish Free State Is Higher

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—The cost of living figure in the Free State is officially reported as eighty-eight per cent higher than in 1914. The figure for Great Britain and Northern Ireland is seventy-three per cent higher.

Pretty Wedding At St. Andrew's

Miss Edna Margaret Penty Married to Mr. F. H. Hurley—To Live in Victoria

An unusually pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Rev. Dr. W. L. Clay united in marriage Miss Edna Margaret Penty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Penty, Ontario Street, and Mr. Frederick Harold Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hurley, Grahame Street.

The church was beautifully decorated with masses of Autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and asters, the bridal couple standing beneath a floral arch of pale pink asters and fern.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her beautiful wedding gown of ivory Canton crepe, with a diagonal flounce of silk lace and spray of orange blossoms falling from one side. Her bouquet was of bridal roses. The beautiful wedding veil was of embroidered net, held to the head with orange blossoms.

The maid of honor, Miss Rowena Penty, sister of the bride, was pretty in a frock of melon pink Georgette crepe trimmed with Georgette godets edged with lace. Her hair bandeau was of gold ribbon.

Miss May Hurley and Miss Rita Kelly were the bridesmaids, in frocks of Nile green and orchid Georgette, and each wore a bandeau of silver ribbon in their hair. They carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Herbert Pearson. During the signing of the register Mrs. Jesse Longfield sang "O, Promise Me."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother and father, Mrs. Penty receiving the guests in a handsome gown of midnight blue embossed crepe and hat of blonde trimmed with blue. The reception rooms were prettily decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies.

Among the many beautiful gifts received by the bride and groom was a mahogany clock from the groom's associates in the Provincial Secretary's Department, and a standard lamp from the employees of the engine-room staff of the Empress Hotel, where the bride's father has been chief engineer for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurley will spend their honeymoon in the Sound cities, and on their return will live in the city.

Presentation Made Marks Appreciation

Women's Institute at Closing Session Honors Mrs. Raven —Re-elected Secretary

During a period of mutual congratulations at the closing sessions of the Women's Institutes' Conference yesterday afternoon, the secretary, Mrs. S. W. Raven, was presented with a handsome leather purse "as a slight tangible appreciation of the able way in which she had carried out the duties of the office." Mrs. Watson, on behalf of the conference, made the presentation, remarking that it was on the shoulders of the secretary that a great deal of the burden of the work fell. In her response, Mrs. Raven paid feeling tribute to her co-workers on the board, beginning with the president, Mrs. A. Booth, whom she characterized as a wonderful helmsman.

The members, before leaving, each received from Mrs. Savery a fragrant bouquet of geranium, heather and statice, tied with white ribbon, the heather, it was stated, having come from Loch Lomond.

Mrs. Crocker, another member of the board, was the subject of congratulations, as today she celebrates her silver wedding.

Election Results

The election for district board of directors resulted in the return of the former officers: President, Mrs. Booth; vice-president, Mrs. Nimmo; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Raven; executive, Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, and Miss Douglas.

Conveners of standing committees are as follows: Home economics, Mrs. Watson; public health, Mrs. Taylor; education, Mrs. Mason-Hurley; legislation, Mrs. Campbell; immigration, Mrs. Peden; institute method, Mrs. J. D. Gordon; industries, Mrs. Service; publicity, Mrs. Mitchell; community betterment, Mrs. Bernard; agriculture, Mrs. Robson.

Community Betterment

Mrs. W. Peden reported on Community Betterment, suggesting clean-up campaigns, erection of community halls, charity, recreation parks, juvenile libraries, planting of young shade trees. Contributions to the solarium fund were reported as amounting to $247.50.

Mrs. F. Campbell, in her report on Legislation, urged the women to become familiar with legislative proceedings, and to take an interest in municipal, provincial, and federal matters, also to see that their names were on the voters' lists.

"Tell me, Toto, what is a widower?"

"Why, the husband of a widow, of course!"—Pele Mele, Paris.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 9.—Five thousand Canadians resident in the United States more than six months, returned to take up permanent residence in Canada during the month of September, Hon. George N. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, declared at a public meeting here last night.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS
Letter From Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her
Spring Valley, Sask.—"I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights my back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it."—Mrs. Annie E. Ayars, Spring Valley, Sask.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

The Gilded Rose

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

ROSILYN RIDGEWAY learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an ever-worked little drudge in her father's inn.

LANDIS RIDGEWAY, her husband, is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother. Rosilyn, loving her husband, knows he is still in love with

LYDIA HARBROOK, a beautiful, cold society girl, who is bent on marrying

STEVIE VAN VORST, a wealthy old rouc, although she is really fond of Ridgeway.

RUPERT BRISCOE, a dissipated man of the world, has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and she and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby Rosilyn and Briscoe will see a great deal of each other, and Lydia will have a chance to exert her wiles upon Landis. The plan works, and Landis, finding himself often alone with Lydia, falls under her spell once more. Van Vorst, however, hungering for her love, decides to use

MARIETTA FERNANDEZ, a dancer, and sweetheart of Briscoe's, in connection with a scheme. These two come of New York, where Marietta begins to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

In the country at the Ridgeway place, Rosilyn, in a fever of jealousy and anxiety over the protracted disappearance of her husband, seeks the solace of the countryside. After an exciting adventure she is rescued by Briscoe, who tells a "fishy" story to account for his proximity to the scene. Landis disapproves heartily of the whole affair, but, conscience-stricken at his neglect of Rosilyn, invites her to attend a stage garden party with him. She joyfully accepts.

CHAPTER LVII

Lydia Invites Herself

Lydia Harbrook, seated on the balcony of a "week-end country cottage," listened wide-eyed to a curiously disturbing story related with great gusto by a female friend.

"Rather odd, isn't it, my dear? And really an enormous 'sell' for your former flame, although, of course, every cloud has a silver lining, and this particular lining is of gold! But isn't it too bad that he didn't delay that impossible marriage of his just a few months, for then it wouldn't have taken place at all! There's where you'd have come in, Lydia—you wouldn't have turned down a definite ten thousand per, would you? Not that it's a great sum, but the capital's all there, and handy! And, of course, we all know that Landis simply adored you!"

Lydia interrupted with a curt—

"You're certain of yous facts?"

The other woman nodded, fingering an open letter.

"It's from my relatives in Australia. They knew young Ridgeway's uncle intimately. They're also mentioned in the will in a minor way. But it seems the old man was always rather keen on Landis. Now he's left him all this cash."

"Amazing!" Lydia's adjectives could not cope with the occasion. Her brain was not working with its usual celerity.

But give her time. . . .

The problem was how to win Landis back to her forever. How to get rid of his present irritating "encumbrance."

There wasn't any time to lose.

It was a matter of but an hour or two for clever Lydia to invent some plausible excuse, pack up her luggage and depart for town. Arrived there, she dispatched a lengthy telegram to Mrs. Ridgeway, senior, giving no address to which a reply might come, for fear that lady "double-crossed" her.

She then went through her wardrobe, packing the very prettiest of her gowns.

And finally she caught the 4.15 and arrived at Royal Cliff just as the guests—for a merry house party was in progress—were thinking of retiring to their rooms to dress for dinner.

"Do forgive my presumption in inviting myself down, but, indeed, your son did say that whenever the place was opened I had a standing invitation."

"I received your telegram, but you made a mistake, surely, in addressing it to me. Landis' wife is naturally the hostess."

No whit daunted, Lydia apologized. "I shall never get accustomed to the fact that you're not in charge." (A sweet sympathy would doubtless do the trick.)

"Nonsense!" The older woman's manner was still stiff and distant. "Rosilyn does splendidly. It's remarkable how clever she is turning out, considering her youth."

Mrs. Ridgeway then sent a maid to show her to the room that was prepared for her. Usually the good lady took that office to herself.

When beautiful Miss Harbrook trailed her irridescent draperies down the wide staircase leading to the hall, she was the somewhat disconcerted witness of a very charming picture. Landis—who was in profile, and was quite unaware of her arrival—had just filled his glass with some potent pre-dinner "appetizer," and, standing beside his young wife, was drinking her health and happiness. Rosilyn wore a corsage, evidently a recent present from her husband.

Why had he done this little deed of gallantry? thought Lydia.

Had it been planned to show his wife that, even though he was now financially independent of her, he really did admire her and was fond of her and wished to give her pleasure?

But, of course, Rosilyn's money still was the inducement. Ten thousand dollars a year wasn't a great fortune—but it did put Landis' value still higher in Lydia's predatory eyes. . . .

She coughed as a gentle hint to indicate her presence.

Both wheeled round.

Landis looked startled and disquieted.

"You—here?"

"And why not? Didn't your mother let you know that I was coming? Haven't I a standing invitation?"

Rosilyn moved forward first to welcome her. Soon other guests appeared, and the gong sounded for dinner. Lydia found herself considerably removed from Landis. Was that the fault of Rosilyn or Landis' mother? The latter had not welcomed the intruder cordially.

After dinner, dancing started. The host did not seek Lydia out. She danced twice with Rupert Briscoe and started a meaningless flirtation with a boy cousin of Landis', whom she had known in his infant days.

That palled.

What was the matter with the evening? It was irritating to see the deference that Landis paid his wife! Lydia knew her own clothes, too, were extraordinarily well chosen. The quaint Victorian gown became her, and the red roses that her husband had given her blazed at her waist, as though in triumph over Lydia's annoyance.

Lydia felt herself, conversationally and mentally, "go flat."

And vivacity was almost as important as beauty, wasn't it?

Something must be done.

Unnoticed by the majority of the dancers, she slipped up to her room.

Tomorrow—An Unpleasant Row.

Housewife—Charlie, the maid has given notice because of the rude way you spoke to her over the phone yesterday.

Her Husband—My dear, I'm so sorry. I thought I was speaking to you.

Big Legislative Changes Sought by Women's Institutes in Conference

Closing Session Adopts Resolutions Favoring Medical Certificates With Marriage Licences, Supporting Prohibition and State Health Insurance

RESOLUTIONS favoring a law compelling parties contemplating marriage to obtain medical certicates of health; supporting prohibition; petitioning the Minister of Health to bring down at the next session of the House legislation providing for state health insurance and old age pensions; and urging the establishment by the individual Institutes of a League of Nations committee for the purpose of making a study of the activities of the League, were among the most important adopted by the Vancouver Island District Women's Institutes conference at their final session yesterday afternoon.

The conference concluded its business about four o'clock, and after adjourning and singing "Auld Lang Syne," repaired to the Hudson's Bay store, where they were the guests of the company at afternoon tea. This brought the annual foregathering to a close.

The conference also went on record as stating its conviction "that only by the entire suppression of the manufacture and sale of alcohol for beverage purposes can teh evils connected therewith be eradicated." No system of Government sale of liquor as a beverage, it was held, could control the traffic or eliminate the evils that "had always accompanied such use."

"In accordance with the above belief, this district organization deplores the ever-increasing extension of the liquor traffic throughout the Province of B.C. In 1922 there were fifty-one liquor stores; in 1923, sixty-three; in 1924, seventy-one. In 1925, notwithstanding the absentee vote, the Provincial majority against the sale of beer by the glass was 1,639, yet in addition to the Government liquor stores since March 21, 1925, 170 beer licences to sell by the glass have been issued throughout the Province."

Pledge to Abolish

"In view of the increased drunkenness, and in view of the increased immorality, as evidenced by police court statistics, this women's organization pledges itself to support efforts made to abolish the liquor traffic," the resolution continued; the conference also pledged itself "to support at the municipal and provincial elections those candidates who sincerely believed in the enforcement of the law and the elimination of the sale of alcohol for beverage purposes."

Consolidated Schools

Mrs. Mason Hurley (Shawnigan) sponsored a resolution favoring "the speedy establishment of consolidated schools in rural districts." The preamble of this resolution argued that the State should provide as far as possible equal educational opportunities for all children. The one-teacher school in rural districts did not meet modern educational requirements; the consolidated school would assist in solving the problem.

The conference also advocated the preparation by representatives of the various religious demominations of graded Scripture selections, and the reading of the same, without comment, as a part of the daily programme of the public schools, children to be excused from attendance whose parents had conscientious objections.

Juvenile Offenders

The conference expressed the view that not less than three experts in child welfare should deal with the question of the treatment of juvenile offenders. This recommendation was made in view of the present condition, which leaves the disposition of the juvenile offender entirely to the presiding magistrate.

The recommendation of the Educational Survey that greater attention be given to the physical training of the child and that organized games should form a part of the curriculum of every school in the province, was given the hearty endorsement of the conference.

Thanks

Resolutions of thanks were passed to the management of the Crystal Garden, for tickets kindly sent; to David Spencer, Limited, who had kindly entertained the conference at lunch on Thursday; to the Hudson's Bay Company, for the invitation to tea; to the Provincial Government, for providing a room in the Parliament Buildings for the meetings; and to the press.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of congratulatfon to Miss Ravenhill, who for several years was chairman of the advisory board of the Women's Institutes, and who has sufficiently recovered from a prolonged illness to come back to the arena again. This was passed with applause.

Bulb Exchange

The Women's Institutes have started a bulb and seed exchange, and members with seeds or bulbs which they were willing to exchange were asked to list these.

An address on state health insurance, given at the morning session by Dr. Clem Davies, was applauded to the echo. Dr. Davies advocated state health insurance and old age pensions. Among the white races the old and wornout worker, he said, was often thrown on the industrial scrapheap, and, unable to compete with the younger worker, they frequently found themselves on the verge of starvation.

Charity, saving and insurance were three of the methods advocated to ward off poverty. Charity was inadequate. Saving was not always possible. Pensions were not available for the real builders of the race, the industrial workers. State health insurance was a vital necessity. Many workers who suffered from ill-health were, owing to lack of means, loth to secure treatment until their condition became so aggravated that surgical methods were imperative. Financial worry created by the thought of doctors and hospital bills did not help recovery.

Birth control had been named as a remedy for these evils. But there was no doubt that there were too few healthy babies being born in the British Empire.

The advantages of state health insurance, with cash benefits during sickness, and with maternity and funeral benefits, were that the wage-earner was protected at a time when he most needed it. One of the best arguments in favor of state health insurance was that it had never been repealed where it had been established.

In the morning there were reports by Mrs. G. F. Watson, as convener of home economics; and by Mrs. Robson, of Vimy, convener of the agricultural committee. The former suggested that institutes should include in their home economics programme talks on the economical and sensible purchase of new equipment for the home, for labor-saving devices, discussions for the preservation of strength and method and times for rest and physical exercise for the housewife, classes in home nursing, making the home a training school for children, classes in the renovation of furniture and clothes, and in preparation of menus. Mrs. Robson advocated the study of the new Settlement Loan Act, which offers advantages to settlers in the new districts. This speaker also deplored the fact that British Columbia, with the best potato-growing land in the Dominion, annually imported 600 tons of potatoes.

Conservative Consistency Is Attacked

Attacks Colonist Summary

Referring to the general prospects of the Liberal party throughout Canada, Dr. King waved aloft a copy of Friday morning's Colonist containing a summary of the seats the Conservatives expect to win on October 29, and declared the whole tabulation was ridiculous. He had challenged any of the Conservative leaders to issue such a summary and they had all evaded, he said. Relative to the Conservative figures for Quebec Province, that they would win sixteen seats, Dr. King declared that Mr. Patenaude, who was leading the Conservatives there, had repudiated both Mr. Meighen and Mr. Mackenzie King. Quebec had returned a solid bloc of sixty-five Liberals in 1921, and it was expected that the province would return almost as many in the forthcoming election.

Electors in the Maritime provinces had been influenced in some degree by Mr. Meighen's Halifax declaration that the policy of the King Government in regard to Western freight rates was indefensible, but they had not agreed with the Conservative leader's policy to raise the tariff fifty per cent. Such a proposal would not appeal to residents of the Maritimes, Dr. King said, because they were looking for outside markets for their produce. He personally hoped that they could secure them in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, but they were producing more than they could sell at home and consequently were against any measure that would make international trade more difficult. Dr. King asserted that the Maritimes had been fooled in 1911, when reciprocity was defeated along with the Laurier Government, but they were shy about being fooled again. Therefore, Dr. King did not believe the Maritimes would return twenty Conservatives out of twenty-nine seats as The Colonist summary claimed.

Preferential Trade

The speaker also criticised The Colonist's figures for Ontario, sixty-four Conservatives and eighteen Liberals, and declared that the King Government would make a far better showing. He confined himself exclusively to the Eastern provinces and did not mention the predictions made for the Prairie group and British Columbia.

Relative to preferential trade, Dr. King charged Mr. Meighen with threatening, if he was elected, to do away with the British preference. He pointed out that Canada's chief market for her exportable wheat was in Great Britain, so that when Canada gave Britain preference for those articles the Canadian people required, the Dominion depended on Britain to buy most of its grain.

He criticized statements attributed to Mr. C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate in the Nanaimo riding, that Canada, by building a tariff wall as high as that of the United States would reap the same benefits that that country did under high protection. Canada was a country of only nine millions, he said, and could not contest with such weapons a nation as big industrially as the neighbor to the south. Canada must depend on sources outside her boundaries for many of the necessities of life, whereas the United States was practically self-contained.

Export of Pulpwood

"Mr. Dickie speaks of the export of pulpwood and saw-logs to the States, but there is only one province in Canada, that of Nova Scotia, which permits the export of logs and pulpwood from crown lands," Dr. King added. "Of all the pulpwood and timber possessed in Canadian forests, only fifteen per cent. that owned by settlers, is available for export."

It was true that the Government permitted the export of raw logs from British Columbia, he said, but such export was held down by certain conditions. Logs were graded into three classes, and only a portion of them could be used in Canada. He thought it was much better that logs unsuitable for Canadian mills should be exported rather than allow them to rot in the woods.

Canada was, with the exception of the United States, the greatest producer of paper in the world, and when figures were complete for the current year it would be found that Canada was the greatest producer. Many people charged the Liberal Government with disposing of the raw products of the country, yet, he said, other countries did the same thing. The United States, he declared, permitted the exportation of huge quantities of raw cotton.

Dealing with financial questions, Dr. King said that an unfavorable trade balance of $30,000,000 in 1921 when the Liberals had taken office had been converted into a favorable balance of $240,000,000 in 1924. Through its policy of building up the Canadian export trade, the Mackenzie King Government had caused the return of the Canadian dollar to par. In 1921, he continued, the Meighen Government had shown loss for the twelve months of $41,000,000. In 1923, under the Mackenzie King budget, a surplus of $35,000,000 was shown, and at the same time substantial reductions had been made in taxation. During the past two years the Liberal Government had saved the people of Canada in taxation $40,000,000 odd, he declared.

U.S. Conditions Different

The speaker deplored the efforts of the Conservatives to compare the situation as it had existed in Canada during the past four years with the accomplishments carried out in a similar period in the United States. Conditions in the United States and Canada were totally unlike, he said, and, as an instance pointed out that the Canadian Government had been forced to operate a vast railway system which, through no fault of the Government's was a financial failure. It was true, he said, that the United States Government had also taken over railroad systems of that country, but when the war was over they had been returned to private ownership and operation.

When the Liberal Government had taken over the National railways from the Conservatives, amalgamation of the three systems, the Grand Trunk, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railways had been effected, and Sir Henry Thornton had been secured to manage them. Today, he said, the National railways had been made to produce an operating surplus. This did not mean that the roads were returning dividends to the people, because the Government still had to meet the heavy liabilities resulting from the bonded indebtedness of the properties.

Ogden Point Docks

In closing, Dr. King commended the action of the King Government in making trade treaties with Australia, South Africa and the West Indies, and declared that the former agreement would undoubtedly react to the benefit of the ports of British Columbia. Relative to the port of Victoria, the speaker told of receiving a local deputation at Ottawa in connection with proposed development of the Ogden Point Piers. He had been able to influence the Government to permit private capital to invest in enterprises on the docks, and the results would be the building of a lumber assembly plant, and grain elevators on Victoria's waterfront.

He declared that absolutely no doubt existed regarding the return of the Mackenzie Government, and appealed to the electors of Victoria not to vote on party lines but on their convictions of what was in the best interests of Canada.

out of commission by settling on the insulators and creating short circuits. Mechanical science, however, had prepared for just such an emergency, and by automatically operating a device which opens the switch at the powerhouse, the short circuit remedied itself. The current ceases, in these circumstances, to perform what is technically known as "blowing," and at the same time the arc is extinguished. The switch is put back by hand by the operator at the station, and everything goes back to normal.

It was at this point that the lights sputtered back into the cooling globes at the Victoria end of the system. But even yet the whole story is not told. Victoria's exceptionally fine weather during the last four or five months is really to blame for the extinguishing of the lighting last evening. Because of the continued absence of rain, dust had accumulated on those insulators in a way it could never have done had there been even one respectable shower in the last few weeks. And the fog, coming before the long-expected rains, soaked into that dust like morning dew might into a bit of blotting-paper lying on the pavement, making a muddy composite which created the short-circuit on the Sooke-way insulators.

Investigating Trouble

Just exactly how many insulators were, or may be, affected, is not known. The B. C. Electric at the first signs of trouble promptly sent a number of men out over the line to try to locate the mischief. They are still working. The more nearly the fog approaches rain in quality and quantity, the less likelihood is there of a repetition of the failing lights.

The Colonist has the testimony of the B. C. Electric that it is the first time in fourteen years that fog has occasioned them trouble in this particular way. It also has the statement of Mr. Napier Denison, superintendent of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau at Gonzales Heights, that October thus far has shown itself unnaturally dilatory in the matter of rains. The average October rainfall here is 2.79 inches. And up to date not the smallest fraction of a millimeter has fallen. This record follows an almost unbroken four-month drought. So it is little to be wondered that there was dust on those insulators.

Fog Local

The fog has been confined chiefly to Victoria and vicinity, although reports show that Vancouver has been experiencing the same conditions in magnified form during the last few days. Seattle reported last evening that there was no fog there. Weather reports from Estevan, on the west coast of the island, simultaneously wirelessed "Generally fine, wind blowing from the north." And from Estevan right down to California the same condition prevails. There is a strong wind and no fog.

Locally, the barometer is still rising and all the indications point to a return of the fair weather. The fog is due to local stagnation of the atmosphere, accompanied by differences of temperature between the upper and lower currents of the air. The maximum temperature at the observatory yesterday was 64. Without the fog it would have been between 64 and 66.

California and Portland report mild weather. Sacramento Valley reported 50 yesterday; Portland, 72. In the Far North, also, the weather is mild, Dawson reports show.

Due to Fog

An accident directly attributed to the dense blanket of fog which hung over Victoria yesterday took place at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when an automobile crash occurred at the corner of Hillside Avenue and Quadra Street. One car, a truck, was going east along Hillside, the other north along Quadra. Only half-visible in the drifting mist, they came suddenly upon each other, and in the attempt to avoid collision swerved into the curb. The auto, driven by Major Buck, of Sidney, was only slightly damaged, but his passenger, a fifteen-year-old boy, sustained a bad cut on the left cheek. The truck, driven by Mr. Southall, smashed into a grocery store on the corner, broke a large plate-glass window and capsized. The driver escaped unhurt, but the truck was badly damaged.

Mr. Meighen Declares Reception of Coast Was Most Wonderful

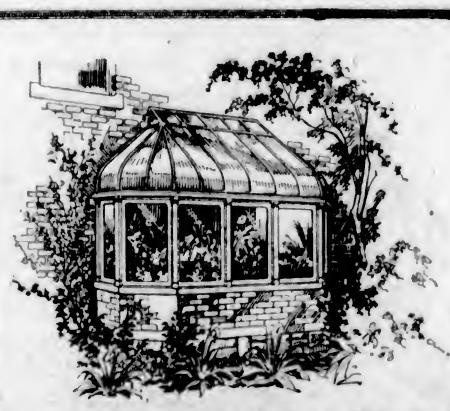

CALGARY, Oct. 9.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, arrived here from the West this afternoon and was greeted by a large number of friends.

"I have been having the most wonderful meetings I have ever known," he said. "I shall never forget the meeting in Vancouver."

Rifle in Boy's Hands Kills Young Comrade

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 9.—Harold Wheeler, aged nine, was shot and killed by Oliver Milo, his nine-year-old cousin, late this afternoon, while playing with a rifle, according to police reports. The boys, officers said, found an old rifle in a woodshed at the Milo home and after they had pulled the trigger several times the gun was discharged.

Motorist Has Narrow Escape

Rifle Bullet Passes Through Car Driven by Dr. Dier on Island Highway Near Nanoose

NANAIMO, Oct. 9.—While driving along the Island Highway near Nanoose Bay, a rifle bullet passed through the windshield of a car driven by Dr. R. F. Dier, of this city. Dr. Dier was driving alone and the bullet missed him, passing to the side and out the far side of the car. Had there been anyone sitting beside the doctor the bullet would have passed through his breast. Dr. Dier has, of course, no idea who fired the shot, but the incident will serve to warn hunters of the necessity of exercising every care when hunting in proximity to the highway.

Strawberry Vale Institute Plans for Forthcoming Season

STRAWBERRY VALE, Oct. 9.—The October meeting of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute was held at the Institute rooms, on Roy Avenue, Colquitz, yesterday, and several new members were made welcome, while some old members who had been absent through illness were also greeted.

Mrs. Williams, president, was in the chair, and reports included that of the recent garden party held under the auspices of the ladies for the solarium for crippled children at Mill Bay. The committee in charge of this event expressed their disappointment that a larger sum was not realized for this event and it was decided to augment the result to the sum of $25.

The Institute has completed arrangements for an inspection party to visit the Victoria Steam Laundry in co-operation with the district board of directors to obtain the sum of $250 being donated the solarium by the laundry. The conveners of the parties, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Jones, extend a cordial invitation to all residents to join them on the date of the first visit to the laundry, October 20.

Winter entertainment includes the holding of a series of card parties, which will have members as hostesses during the season. Mrs. Laycock and Mrs. Coverdale were appointed to take charge of these events.

The annual Hallow'en party for all children in the district will be held on Saturday, October 31, in Strawberry Vale Hall. This is an event much anticipated by the young people.

An interesting address was given by Mrs. J. D. Gordon of Victoria on Institute work and method. She urged the members to attend the district conference of Island Institutes being held in Victoria this week. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Gordon.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Foster, hostesses for the meeting, served tea at conclusion of the meeting.

Brentwood Bay Personals

BRENTWOOD, Oct. 9.—The second of the Winter series of card parties held under the auspices of the West Saanich Women's Institute was held on Wednesday evening. Thirteen tables were engaged in play. Those winning prizes were: First, Miss W. Parsell, Miss Gladys Guy, Mr. C. Hammond and Mr. J. H. Osborne, with twenty-nine flags. Three tables tied for second place, with twenty-three flags each. Those winning were Mrs. A. Fetch, Mrs. Berryman, Mr. Sutton and Mr. Goselin. The next card party will be held on October 21.

Owing to other attractions in the district on the same night, the dance which was to have been given under the auspices of the West Saanich Women's Institute on Friday evening, October 16, has been postponed to some future date.

Harvest Festival service was held in the Institute Hall last Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., the hall being decorated with grain, fruit and vegetables, which were afterwards donated to the B.C. Protestant Orphanage.

The West Saanich Athletic Association will again begin the season with a meeting in the Old West Road Hall, corner of Keating Cross Road, on Tuesday evening, October 13. The Association acknowledges with thanks a donation of $22.89 from the Brentwood Bay Carnival. The date and place of games will be announced later.

Church of England service will be held in the Institute Hall on Sunday, October 11, at 3 p.m.

The Mount Newton Social Club will hold the first card party of the season on Wednesday, October 14, at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Harold Bond, who has been engineer on the ferry boat for the past twelve months, has resigned and has moved to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Aitkens, of Marchant Road, who have been absent from the district for the past four years, have returned here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Mayell, who have been spending the past two months in the East, have returned to their home on Verdier Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm, Clarke Drive, have returned to their home after living in Victoria for the past two years.

Supervising Nurse Reports on Cowichan Health Centre Work

DUNCAN, Oct. 9.—Miss I. Jeffares, supervising nurse for the Cowichan Health Centre, reports the following activities for the month of September in connection with the work:

The districts visited include Duncan, Cobble Hill, Bench Road, Genoa Bay, Mayo, Maple Bay, Sylvania, Westholme, Cowichan Station, Cowichan Lake, Chemainus, Koksilah, Crofton, Sahtlam and Shawnigan Lake.

The nursing service embraces sixty-six bedside nursing visits, forty-three child welfare visits, twenty-eight other welfare visits, forty-two co-operative visits, and twenty-three home school visits, making a total of 202 visits to homes. There were forty-two visitors to the Health Centre, seventy-six phone consultations, and eighteen transportations.

The school service included forty-five visits to schools, 466 children inspected, eighty-two children weighed and examined, twenty-four health talks given, eighty-four minor treatments attended to, and five children excluded on account of minor infections, four children taken to school medical officer for examination and four children taken home from school on account of minor illness. Twenty-three school visits were made.

The Well-Baby Clinic was held Thursday, September 24, in the Women's Institute rooms, Dr. H. P. Swan in charge, when eight babies were present. Mrs. Whidden served tea to the mothers and visitors.

Meetings attended included the monthly meeting of the Cowichan Health Centre committee. At the Cobble Hill fair and the Cowichan Agricultural Society Fall Exhibition exhibits were displayed and literature distributed.

Radio Tea Proves Success at Sidney

A successful radio tea was held in Wesley Hall on Wednesday, October 7, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Union Church. The radio concert, on a radio installed for the purpose by the kindness of Mr. N. Fralick, was much enjoyed, while the candy, home produce and ice cream stalls, in charge of Mesdames Wilkinson, Hill and F. Bowcot, respectively were well patronized. A delightful pageant, entitled "World Fellowship," was enacted by the children of the Sunday School, all the performers acquitting themselves creditably. Rev. M. Lees spoke a few words explaining the origin of this pageant, which was taken from the book entitled "The Clash of Color." Mrs. Crichton and Mrs. Ramsay arranged the pageant, Mrs. Crichton also playing the accompaniments. Dainty refreshments were served, the committee in charge consisting of Mesdames M. Lees, Jackson, Lane, A. Critchley, J. T. Taylor, H. Knight and Douglas.

Keating Ladies' Aid Society Holds Meeting

KEATING, Oct. 9.—The Ladies' Aid Society met in the Union Church parlor, Thursday afternoon, with a good attendance and the president, Mrs. McClure, in the chair. Miss Deering read the secretary's report; and the treasurer's report showed that the proceeds from the concert held in September were very gratifying. Business in connection with this concert was disposed of.

The Rev. Mr. Lees, who was present at the meeting, made arrangements for a sale of home-cooking which is to be held in December, and plans were also made for a concert which is scheduled to be held early in the New Year.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held Thursday afternoon, November 12, when the Rev. Mr. Lees will address the members and their friends.

Cheque Presented by I.O.D.E. Delegation

Additional Donation to Be Used for Nanaimo's New Hospital Building

NANAIMO, Oct. 9.—The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Nanaimo Hospital was held Thursday evening with Mr. C. McCallum, president, in the chair.

Requisitions from the architect of the new hospital building, amounting to $14,000, were received, passed for payment and accounts totalling $2,100 were ordered paid.

The report of Miss Rose, lady superintendent, for the month of September stated that sixty-eight new patients were admitted to the hospital, sixty-one discharged and four died.

A delegation from the I.O.D.E. waited on the board and presented it with a cheque of $320.58 to be used exclusively for the new hospital building. With this donation the board recognized the fact that the I.O.D.E. has contributed in all the sum of $1,736.86 to the hospital direct, and about the same amount to the Woman's Auxiliary.

Chairman Coburn, of the finance committee, reported there had arisen some difficulty in reference to a legacy of a former Nanaimo woman, in which it was understood the sum of $1,000 had been left to the Nanaimo Hospital. The details of the legacy are at the present time in the hands of the executors of the deceased, and will, it is expected, be settled shortly.

Convener Elected

Mrs. J. E. T. Powers was elected convener of the entertainment committee of the Nanaimo Hospital Auxiliary for the month of October. Her committee has announced a grand drawing to terminate with a musicale and tea. To date the Woman's Auxiliary has turned over $17,000 to the new hospital now under the course of construction.

Officers Appointed by Athletic Association

KEATING, Oct. 9.—A successful meeting was held by the Elk Lake Athletic Association in the Temperance Hall, Keating, Tuesday evening, when the interest shown in the association was manifested by the number of people who turned out to hear the reports of what the association had accomplished during the last year. The balance sheet showed that the club had increased its assets materially, in so far as buildings are concerned, in addition to which a very satisfactory financial balance was reported.

Very few changes occurred in the directorate, Mr. Beales, of Royal Oak, being appointed president, whilst Mr. H. C. Oldfield, retiring president, remains on the board of directors.

Many suggestions were received, which the new board feels need quick action, among which in particular is the formation of a select committee for the purpose of carrying on Winter sports.

The executive for the coming year is as follows: President, Mr. Beales; vice-president, W. Kersey; temporary secretary-treasurer, B. C. Amey; directors: Messrs. H. Robinson, B. Grainger, H. C. Oldfield, Westondale, Mullins.

Arrangements Made For Concert and Dance

KEATING, Oct. 9.—Miss Lillian Styan entertained the members of the South Saanich Junior Institute, when their regular monthly meeting was held at her home, Thursday afternoon, a good attendance of members being present.

Miss I. Lawrie presided during the business session, the greater part of the time being spent in making arrangements for the concert and dance which is to be held by the club, Friday evening, November 13, in the Temperance Hall. The concert programme will be composed of a play entitled "How He Proposed," which promises to be very amusing, and several other numbers which will prove very entertaining. Refreshments and a dance will follow, and the girls are exerting every effort to make the evening a success. A rehearsal was held after the adjournment of the meeting, and tea was kindly served by the hostess during the afternoon.

Mr. B. Readings, Bazan Bay, met with a painful accident when he fell from the roof when working on the new house of Mr. Hall. Mr. Readings sustained a bad cut on the head, besides numerous painful bruises.

The Harvest Festival services will be celebrated next Sunday in the Anglican churches. The services will be conducted by the Rev. W. Barton, who is well known in this district.

The prize winners at the Sidney Social Club this week were Mrs. J. Hambley, Mrs. B. McKay, Mr. N. Fralick and Mr. G. Lloyd. Final arrangements were made for the open night to be held on October 14.

Keating Personals

KEATING, Oct. 9.—Mr. W. D. Michell, manager of the Temperance Hall, will begin a series of dances, which will be continued throughout the Winter months, by holding a dance Friday evening, October 16. Charlie Hunt's orchestra has been engaged for the evening, and a good time is assured all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Blaine, who have been visiting Mrs. Blaine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Russell, Giles Road, returned to their home in Seattle on Wednesday.

Miss Doris Anderson, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, Keating Cross-road, has left for Seattle.

A card party will be held by South Saanich Women's Institute in the Temperance Hall, Saturday evening, October 10, when the Misses "Pat" Gale, Blanche Sherring, Estelle Gold and Beatrice Butler will act as conveners.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Lamont returned home Saturday, after spending the week-end on the Mainland.

Miss Patricia Gale has returned to her home on Steily's Crossroad, after visiting with Mrs. Cliff West, Saanich Road.

Mrs. W. D. Michell was a visitor to the conference of Vancouver Island Institutes held in Victoria on Thursday afternoon.

School Board Asks Extension of Sidewalk

DUNCAN, Oct. 9.—At a meeting of the Consolidated School Board Wednesday evening it was decided to request the City Council to continue the sidewalk on Cairnsmore Street to the junction with the Island Highway, for the benefit of children attending the new primary school. The board will also take up with the Provincial Public Works Department the matter of extending the sidewalk on the Island Highway to the same point. The distance involved in the latter project is about a quarter of a mile.

A request from the public school principal for a library grant was referred to the finance committee with power to act. A request from the High School for a grant toward their sports equipment was filed with the recommendation that the request be renewed early in 1926. One grant toward the High School sports fund had already been made this year.

Plans Outlined for Sale Of Work in November

LANGFORD, Oct. 9.—The St. Matthew's Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. D. Donald, on Wednesday afternoon, a good attendance being present. Plans were outlined for a sale of work to be held on the last Wednesday in November. It was arranged to hold the next meeting on October 21 at the home of Mrs. G. A. Heal.

Outside Light Has Been Placed on Church

COLWOOD, Oct. 9.—At the monthly meeting of St. John's Women's Auxiliary of Colwood, held Wednesday last, at the vicarage, preparations were made to hold a sale of work during the first week in December. All of the members are busy making novelties which will be suitable for Christmas presents.

The ladies also voted the necessary money enabling the wardens to install an outside light on the church. The light has been placed by members of the church committee, and no one need worry about stumbling on dark nights in the pathway.

Mrs. H. Pearson and Mrs. H. Parker were hostesses for the afternoon.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

Christy Mathewson Was Symbol of Highest Type of Sportsmanship

Was Football Star at College as Well as Shining Light of Diamond—Ran Full Gamut of Baseball—Unsurpassed in Pitching Skill

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Christy Mathewson, idol of the nation's baseball fandom over a span of more than two decades, and one of the greatest pitchers the game has ever known, was a symbol of the highest type of American sportsmanship.

Running the full gamut of baseball fame, first as a playing star, later as a coach and manager, Mathewson left the game to answer a greater call during the World War; subsequently fought and temporarily won a battle for his life, threatened by after-effects of his service, and then capped the climax of his diamond career by returning as part owner and president of a major league club.

Consummate Skill

But after all the remarkable achievements of Mathewson's career are recounted, the greatest tribute of all will be paid to his wonderful pitching skill. For on the mound he was a master craftsman, the most consummate and brilliant artist of all time, in the opinion of many of the game's closest students.

"Big Six"—a sobriquet contracted from "Big Six Footer"—started his major league career with the New York Giants in 1900, and it was during his seventeen seasons with that club that he carved a lasting niche for himself in the twirling hall of fame. Later he became manager for two-and-a-half years of the Cincinnati Reds; served as a captain in the chemical warfare arm of the American Expeditionary Force during the World War; returned from the service to rejoin his old teammates, the Giants, as a coach, and retired from the game temporarily in 1920, when his health was dangerously impaired. He came back, again hale and hearty, in February, 1923, to accept the presidency and part ownership of the Boston Nationals.

Also Football Star

Mathewson was born at Factoryville, Pa., August 12, 1880. A graduate of Bucknell College, at Lewisburg, in Eastern Pennsylvania, where he was both a baseball and football star, playing at fullback on the college eleven and considered at that time one of the greatest dropkickers in the game. Mathewson broke into professional baseball with the Taunton, Mass., club of the New England League in 1899, receiving a salary of $80 a month for his first season. He lost his first start by a score of 6 to 5 to the Manchester, N. H., club. During the season he won but two and lost nine games, lack of control—a fault he did not overcome for several years—handicapping his effectiveness.

Mathewson, however, was not long in attracting major league attention. Playing with Norfolk, in the Virginia League, in 1900, he won twenty-one out of twenty-three games, and was obtained by the Giants, who turned him back after a brief tryout, for more seasoning with the southern club. Later the same year he was drafted by Cincinnati, but soon afterwards was sent to the Giants in a deal by which the Reds secured Amos Rusie.

Matty's first major league appearance was in the role of relief pitcher in a game lost by the Giants to Brooklyn. He had but indifferent success as a pitcher and utility player until 1902, when John McGraw succeeded Horace Fogel as manager of the Giants. "Big Six" was playing first base at the time but McGraw quickly recognized his pitching ability and took him in hand. His strides toward greatness dated from that period.

Numerous Feats

Feats of pitching brilliance too numerous to catalogue filled Matty's record during the dozen years in which he ranked consistently among the most effective twirlers in the major leagues.

Mathewson had the misfortune to lose two of the most important games of his career, the play-off contest with the Chicago Cubs for the pennant in 1908, and the deciding game of the world series with the Boston Red Sox in 1912. Breaks of the game played a big part in both defeats. Misjudgment of a fly by "Cy" Seymour, Giant outfielder, was blamed for the defeat of the Cubs, while a costly error by Fred Snodgrass turned the tide against the Giants and Matty in the struggle with the Red Sox.

His Greatest Rival

Mordecai (Three-Fingered) Brown of the Cubs was Matty's greatest rival on the mound and the two had many stirring duels. Brown was Matty's opponent when the latter pitched his no-hit game against the Cubs in 1905, but conquered his New York rivals in the famous 1908 play-off game.

It was related that one reason when the Giants and Cubs were battling for first place, President Taft, an ardent fan, had his private car attached to the train bearing the New York team to Chicago in order to see Mathewson and Brown oppose each other in the opening game of a series.

Oddly enough, both of these great pitchers closed their major league careers as players by opposing each other in a game on September 4, 1916. Mathewson then was manager of Cincinnati, and the Reds won, 10 to 8, both "old masters" being hit freely.

Mathewson suffered a shoulder injury in 1914 which virtually ended his career as a regular on the mound. He pitched infrequently thereafter and persuaded McGraw to let him go to Cincinnati during the middle of 1916 to fulfill his managerial ambition. In the deal by which Matty went to the Reds, the Giants also gave Eddie Roush and William McKechnie in exchange for "Buck" Herzog, retiring Cincinnati leader, and Wade Killefer.

A Good Leader

The Reds finished last in 1916 but improved rapidly under Matty's leadership, landing fourth place in 1917 and third place the following year, his last with the club.

Mathewson responded to the call to war at the close of the abbreviated season of 1918 and served with distinction overseas. He returned to become a coach with the Giants, holding that post until 1920, when he became seriously ill from the effects of being "gassed" during the war and faced a battle for his life with tuberculosis.

Reddick Loses Title

STETTLER, Alta., Oct. 8.—The Canadian light-heavyweight championship changed here tonight, going from Jack Reddick, of Winnipeg, to Bob Fox, of Stettler, when the former was disqualified at the end of the sixth round for fouling his opponent.

Bluege Must Take Rest Till Sunday

No Serious Injury Resulting From Bean Ball, But Complete Rest Prescribed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Ossie Bluege, star third baseman of the Washington Senators, who was hit on the head by a pitched ball yesterday at Pittsburgh, probably will not return to the lineup before Sunday. This announcement came from physicians after they had examined the player, who returned here with the Washington club overnight and was taken to the Wardman Park Hotel.

No alarm is felt over Bluege's condition, nor is any concussion or other ill-effects feared, but complete rest and quiet has been ordered for him as a precautionary measure.

As a further safeguard an X-ray will be taken to discover whether the blow from Vic Aldridge's fast one caused any damage which has not yet become apparent.

Buddy Meyer, Southern League recruit who substituted for Bluege yesterday, will fill the third base post until the regular guardian returns.

Vets Are Strengthened to Meet North Shore Today

Fine Soccer Game Should Result From Meeting With Mainlanders at Royal Athletic Park—Three Senior Victoria and District League Games on Programme

With a strengthened team since their last engagement the Veterans are confidently expecting to make a much better showing when they meet the North Shore United soccer team at the Royal Athletic Park this afternoon and are hoping to register their first win.

Ritchie, a newcomer from Saskatoon, is a new acquisition to their ranks, and in addition they have signed on Clarkson, who needs no introduction to local football fans as a fast and clever wing forward, while considerably extra punch should be given to their forward line by the addition of J. Clark, of Nanaimo City, who will play with the Vets in today's match.

North Shore United are a formidable aggregation and, if they are defeated today, their conquerors will emerge from the joint occupancy of the cellar. Although at present sharing that lowly position, the lads from the North Shore gave Cumberland, the league leaders, a very hard run last week and just lost out by a single counter. The Veterans are picking their team for today from the following players: Bridges, Campbell, Preston, McCormack, Smith, A. Campbell, Cameron, J. Clark, "Nobbie" Clark, Clarkson, Ritchie, Merfield and Thornett. These players are asked to be at the Veterans of France clubrooms not later than 2.30. Oliver will referee this game, which is scheduled to start at 3:45.

District League

Three Victoria and District League games are on the card for the day, two on local grounds and one at James Island, where the Wests will meet the James Island team, with Payne as referee. Esquimalt play Victoria United at Central Park, with Alcock referee, and Sons of England play United Services at Beacon Hill, with Stokes referee.

These two games are scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

One junior football game is also on the programme, Esquimalt meeting the Veterans at Victoria West.

The Line-Ups

Teams are announced as follows:

S. O. E.—Holman; Tuckwell and Armitage; Dryborough, Harwood and Shanks; Connorton, Williams, Southern, Swan and Thomas; reserve, Cull.

Victoria United — Hogan, White, Newlands, Wale, Moulton, Martin, Easler, Dunn, Allan, Dowda, Saville, Auchinvole and Taylor.

Esquimalt—Nicol, Watt, Mesher, Hay, J. Watt T. Watt, Stewart Warren, McColl, Hosmer and Edwards.

Victoria Wests—Whyte, Baker, Copas, Passmore, Peden, Popham, J. Sherratt, Lupton, Mulcahy, Tooby, Butler and Waddington; reserves, J. Sherratt and Wright. Players are requested to meet at the City Hall at 1:45 o'clock.

It was announced last night that Saanich Thistles will play the Naval Reserve at the Canteen grounds. All players are asked to be on the field by 2:45.

Miss Lenglen Cheered By Former Enemies Of Country at Vienna

VIENNA, Oct. 9.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis champion, was given an enthusiastic greeting today when she invaded former enemy territory for a series of matches. She defeated the Austrian champion, Frau Redlich, decisively, 6-0, 6-0.

After the cheering had subsided, Mlle. Lenglen declared: "To think we have been at war with these fine people."

Miss Fowler Wins Ladies' Golf Title

WESTWARD HO, Eng., Oct. 9.—Miss D. R. Fowler, of North Hants., won the English women's golf championship today, defeating Miss Joy Winn in the 36-hole final by nine up and seven to play.

Miss Fowler, who also holds the championship of Somerset, was the runner-up to Joyce Wethered for the British women's title last year.

Miss Wethered did not defend her championship in the tournament just ended.

Racing at Thorncliffe

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—It rained and snowed a little at Thorncliffe this afternoon, but there was a big crowd notwithstanding. Millar's Lizah, with Chalmers up, won the Waterloo Handicap, the feature of the day. It was a mile race. Lizah came around the outside of the leaders into the final stretch and outlasted Clapper, winning by a neck. Florance Deen came from behind to win the second by a length. St. Quentin, the favorite, tired and finished fifth.

Junior Champ Gives Tilden Hard Match

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—Brilliant but futile opposition met William Tilden II. in the invitational tournament at the Los Angeles Tennis Club yesterday. Ben Gorchakoff, junior city champion, playing cleverly and aggressively against the national titleholder, but losing his match 6-2, 6-3 in straight sets.

Rain Causes Postponement Of World Series Baseball

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Raindrops curved across the landscape by that familiar old veteran, J. Pluvius, silenced the batteries of the world series forces today and put off until tomorrow the renewal of hostilities between the deadlocked Washington Senators and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The downpour started at 8 o'clock this morning. It kept up almost continuously until noon, when a deep-sea conference, participated in by Commissioner Landis, President Clark Griffith, of the Washington Club, and Manager Bill McKechnie, of the Pirates, concluded that the field at Griffith's Stadium was in no condition for championship combat.

Then, just to play a prank on the thousands of Capital rooters, disappointed in their hopes of seeing the first game on home soil, Old Sol checked the watery attack and gave a balmy finish to the afternoon.

The chief encouragement in this, however, was the prospect that tomorrow and the following two days would provide suitable weather for the play to go on under its delayed schedule.

Hockey Players At a Discount

New York Manager, Tommy Gorman, Says Competition for Places Will Be Keen

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—The bottom has fallen out of the hockey player market, according to Tommy Gorman, manager of the New York Hockey Club. Recent raids by the professional clubs on the ranks of the amateurs have been so successful, he says, that competition for places on the various teams in the East and the West will be very keen.

"We have eighteen players on the roster of the New York Club," said Mr. Gorman today. "And six or seven of these will be disposed of before the season gets under way. We secured eleven from the Hamilton Tigers, three from Edmonton and four from other clubs in the National Hockey League. We have two men for every position and we intend to carry only ten or eleven.

"The same situation obtains at Montreal. The Montreal Hockey Club has no fewer than seventeen players under contract."

Coast Baseball

PORTLAND, Oct. 9.—Bill Hughes, Sacramento hurling star, pitched a beautiful game today to win from Portland, 3-0. Hughes allowed only four hits.

Oakland	2	6	0
Los Angeles	8	13	0

Batteries: Krause, McKenry and Baker; Glazner, Crandall and Sandberg.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The San Francisco Seals became 1925 champions of the Pacific Coast League today when they defeated the Tigers, 2-1, in a hotly-contested twelve-inning battle. At the same time, Salt Lake, second-place contenders, lost to Seattle, last year's champions, making the Seals' victory doubly certain. This is the third pennant for the Seals in the last four years. The seals now lead the league by fourteen and one-half games.

American League Has Margin Over National in Number of Victories

Has Been Successful in Thirteen Out of Twenty-One World's Series—Three Times Nationals Have Whitewashed Rivals—Never a Boston Team Defeated

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Victorious in thirteen out of twenty-one world's series clashes with teams of the National League, the American has, however, only a small advantage in games won and runs scored. Since 1903 the junior organization's clubs have captured sixty-five contests to fifty-nine for the Nationals and scored 422 runs to 411 for their opponents.

Even though the under dog, the National League stands out in one respect. Three times its representatives in the series have swept to victory without allowing the Americans a game. The Detroit Americans felt the wrath of the Chicago Nationals in 1907; the Philadelphia Athletics were humbled by the Braves in 1914, and only three years ago the New York Giants carried through four straight conquests to defeat the New York Yankees.

Another outstanding fact in this world's series comparison is that no Boston team has ever experienced defeat. The Red Sox have captured five titles and the Braves one.

The record of games and runs since 1903 follows:

	G.	R.
1903—Boston Americans	5	39

Grass Hockey Club Practising Today

Good Turnout Expected to Prepare for Coming Matches—To Play Vancouver

Everything seems pointing to the fact that the local grass hockey club will be stronger than last season. Several players who had temporarily discontinued playing have again joined the club and also there are numerous juniors who are anxious to play.

Today at Oak Bay the usual practice will take place. Several matches have already been arranged and a good rally is expected. Any players who are again taking up the game and also recruits are urged to be on hand, and a good afternoon's sport is assured them.

The first game against the mainlanders in Vancouver will be in November.

Uplands Ladies' Medal

Following is the draw for play in the ladies' monthly competition of the Uplands Golf Club tomorrow:

Miss E. Mills and Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Hepburn and Mrs. Semple.

Miss S. Hiscocks and Miss E. Macnaughton.

Mrs. Geiger and Miss D. Maxwell, Miss Wolfenden and Mrs. Price, Mrs. Ellis and Miss Iabister.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old 'Un"

The death of CHRISTY MATHEWSON came as a shock to more than just baseball fans.

* * * * * *

Not only American baseball, but American sport in general owed a lot to this big man, who did more than any one man to elevate the game as played by professionals and put it on a new plane of cleanliness and sportsmanship.

* * * * * *

He gave his life for his country, as his death was almost directly due to illness contracted in the World War in France and the effects of lethal gas. Since then he has battled intermittently with tuberculosis for six years.

* * * * * *

It's extraordinary how careful a newspaper writer has to be in his phraseology if he doesn't want to get "called" by somebody or other.

* * * * * *

They're telling a story now of Carl Bandebury, of the Associated Press, who has been reporting world series games for fifteen years. They say he never makes a mistake in calling play by play.

* * * * * *

But in one of his stories he referred to spectators as sitting on a fence like a lot of crows. An objection came from some rural quarter that crows do not sit on fences, so he just had to "kill" the crows and make them sparrows.

* * * * * *

Among the games which appear to be growing in popularity all the time is English billiards.

* * * * * *

Among the signs of this are the changes made in the conditions for the competition in the Old Country for the Amateur Championship.

* * * * * *

Not so many years ago there used to be a mere handful, comparatively speaking, of entrants for this competition. Recently the numbers have increased so rapidly that this year it has been considered necessary to divide the country into fifteen sections for the purpose of the qualifying competitions.

* * * * * *

The last two players in each provincial section and the last four players in the London section will be eligible for the competition proper in London.

* * * * * *

Talking of billiards, did you notice that WALTER LINDRUM made a new "record" break of 1,879 in his match with CLAUDE FALKINER in Western Australia the other day.

* * * * * *

He lost the white when he had made 298, making the last 1,581 off the red.

* * * * * *

(Or maybe he "potted the white" on purpose when he was tired of the all-round game and cleared it out of his way for red hazard play, as Gray (also of Australia) used to do.)

Londoners Get Greater "Kick"

Hotspurs' and Arsenal's Fortunes in English Football Being Closely Watched

LONDON, Oct. 9.—With two teams from the London district now leading the first division of the English League, the interest of Metropolitans has been given a decided stimulus, and the affairs of Tottenham Hotspurs and Arsenal are being followed with keen anticipation. Since West Ham connected with two losses in their last two games, their stock has dropped considerably.

While always prepared for the unexpected, the fans here are nevertheless confident that the Spurs will give a good account of themselves when they go to Bury tomorrow, for Bury are travelling over rocky ground and it is not likely that Tottenham will help them out at all. There have been times within the last few weeks when the Spurs have proved a distinct disappointment, notably when they went down to Cardiff on their own grounds and also when Sunderland took their measure last month by three goals; but confidence has been restored by their win over Blackburn.

Arsenal Doubtful

With the Arsenal the fans are not quite so sure. They play Bolton Wanderers at Highbury on Saturday. Last week they paid a disastrous visit to the Tyneside and returned to London with a seven-to-nothing beating hanging over them. They took their revenge on West Ham on Monday by avalanching the Hammers by four goals. This served to repair their fortunes and has given them enough confidence to believe that on their own ground they will be able to give a little more than they receive from Bolton. This will be the Wanderers' first trip to London this year.

Aston Villa are slated to visit Leicester and pit themselves against the former second stringers. The Villa have not lost a game since September 2, when they went down before Manchester United. In the seven games they have engaged in since, however, they have won only three and have drawn the remainder. There must also be considered the fact that Leicester appear to have grown a bit more stable since that disastrous period, when they collected five losses in a row.

In their last two games they have defeated Bolton and drawn with Notts County. Sunderland have a chance to restore themselves on Saturday, when they entertain Everton. They ran into a series of defeats three weeks ago and have not appeared able to recover.

An Equal Split

Huddersfield, although the only undefeated team in the first division, are finding the going a little harder this year than last. Their eight games have been split equally between victories and draws. Another win is looked for tomorrow, when they play host to Burnley.

Other games are:

Cardiff at Birmingham.
Manchester City at Blackburn.
Leeds at Liverpool.
Newcastle at Manchester United.
Sheffield at West Bromwich.
Notts County at West Ham.

Bercot and Mills Get Draw, While English Boxer Gets Plaudits

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—Harry Whybrow, stout little English mitt artist, making his first appearance here, stole the show from the main-bouters at the Arena tonight, when he gave Georgs Sollis, Salt Lake City boxer, a trimming after six rounds of milling.

Dode Bercot, Seattle, and Pat Mills, late of England, boxed a tame ten-round draw in the main bouts. Though the judges were unanimous in calling it a draw, Bercot was rather fortunate in getting an even break.

Uplands to Play Duncan At Home Course Sunday

The draw for the interclub match between Duncan and Uplands, which will be played over the Uplands course on Sunday, is as follows, Duncan being the first named in each case:

9:00—E. Burton vs. A. V. Price.
9:05—R. L. Challoner vs. R. J. Darcus.
9:10—K. F. Duncan vs. P. Edmonds.
9:15—A. H. Petersen vs. H. E. Hepburn.
9:20—J. H. Edgell vs. W. P. D. Pemberton.
9:25—St. J. Considine vs. C. Morrison.
9:30—G. G. Share vs. W. A. R. Hadley.
9:35—R. Musgrave vs. D. M. Gordon.
9:40—W. H. Powell vs. D. A. McDonald.
9:45—J. S. Robinson vs. L. Glazan.
9:50—John Gibb vs. C. Brooke.
9:55—A. Leeming vs. W. P. Unsworth.
10:00—H. R. Punnett vs. D. W. Campbell.
10:05—W. L. B. Young vs. G. H. Walton.

Singles will be played in the morning and fourballs in the afternoon.

Grand Jury Says Not Bill in Case Of Janet Smith

not required to appear until he is arraigned, and this has now been made impossible by the grand jury's decision. Fourteen witnesses, whose names were on the back of the indictment, were examined by the grand jury. The hearing, before closed doors, commenced Thursday morning and concluded about noon today. After the last witness had left, the jury deliberated for a time.

Although Mr. Justice McDonald had instructed the jury that they were entitled to consult the crown prosecutor on points, which were not questions of law, no aid was sought from Mr. C. W. Craig, K.C., or from Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., special investigator into the circumstances surrounding Janet Smith's death and who conducted the prosecution of Wong Foon Sing in police court.

To reach a decision a majority of seven jurors is required; and to return no bill all the crown witnesses must be heard. Whether the grand jury returned a majority or a unanimous finding was not stated.

The death of the young Scottish nursemaid on the morning of July 26, 1924, in a house at 3851 Osler Avenue occupied by Mr. F. L. Baker, is left in the position that one coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death, another jury of murder and the grand jury has decided that Wong Foon Sing, the Chinese houseboy, was not guilty.

Of the many features, indirectly connected with the death of Janet Smith, there remains the case against Wong Foon Sing's alleged abductors. This indictment has not yet been presented to the grand jury.

Port Growth Seen as First Need of City

"Thanks to the King Government, today we have the assurance of the lumber assembly plant." The candidate proceeded, "You have an elevator assured, for which you voted the other day, and we have a second elevator concern ready to sign a lease. Are you not, therefore, going to tell the people of Canada that you appreciate this development? We want coal bunkers, coal storage, lumber assembly plant, if we are to do the business to which we are entitled. We have to develop return cargoes for ships coming to load grain, we must do everything to establish industries. When you have, as I have had, young men and women just finishing college and high school education, coming to see if they cannot get something to do in order to keep from going to the United States, is it not high time that we started to develop here to keep our young men and women in this country?"

The candidate asked if they wished Canada to return to the chaotic conditions of 1920 and 1921, and expressed the opinion that they must stir themselves. Was it not just as feasible to ship to Halifax as for Halifax to ship to Victoria? Let us then say," he went on, "to the Mackenzie King Administration, that we appreciate what you have done for us."

Restoration of Trade

Mr. Ivel quoted figures to show that there had been a trade revival in the past four years. Real progress had been made to put Canada on her feet, he declared.

He submitted that the teaching of history showed that Canada had not progressed under a high tariff, rather the reverse. What was the case with motor cars? Here was an example of the iniquities of a high tariff. He had collected data on the price of a number of cars in the United States and Canada, and mentioned one illustration of a car quoted at $2,335, f.o.b. at the factory in Canada, which was listed in the United States at $1,295. Why this difference? he queried.

Mr. Ivel declared the essentials as the determining factors of the election, migration, tariff and equalization of freight rates.

Migration

Since Confederation, he said, they had had fifty-eight years of party government, twenty-one years under Liberal auspices, and thirty-seven years under Conservative administration. "The term of the Laurier Administration, he pointed out, had been the most prosperous in the history of Canada. Since 1911 the population has scarcely grown at all." It was still about 9,000,000. Asserting that migration had been coincident with the years of Tory rule, he was challenged with a negative from the audience. The Tories, he continued, went on the assumption that the country was going to ruin under this Administration. Such an assertion he warmly challenged.

Immigration figures from the British Isles, and from the United States of returning Canadians were quoted by the speaker to maintain that there was a distinct improvement in the statistics, and he prophesied there would be a much better condition during the next four years of the Liberal Administration.

Finance

When Mr. King took office, Mr. Ivel proceeded, he had found a very different condition to that when the Laurier ministry went out in 1911, and in support of that statement he brought to witness the statement of Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance in the Borden ministry, as showing Canada was in a most prosperous state when that administration took office. The speaker said they all knew the conditions when the Conservative ministry went out with a heavy load of debt. Some declared the war was responsible. The war was used as an excuse for many things. Deducting the cost of the war, however, the debt of Canada was increased $332,000,000 by the late government, of which $173,000,000 was created in the years of the Meighen administration. After two years of the King Government, he asserted, we returned to surpluses, after many years of absence from our budget.

General Odlum

Brigadier-General V. W. Odlum, M.P.P., said he welcomed the difference of opinion which divided Canada at this time as good for public discussion. The Liberal party won his adherence, he stated, because it saw humanity as of primary importance; the Conservative party saw property rights first, humanity afterwards.

In 1921 public opinion was undecided, it was in a critical mood, now conditions had changed, and he found himself whole-heartedly for the first time since he returned from overseas in a Federal election, and that because he believed the Liberal ministry had a definite purpose. As one who had had frequent opportunities of meeting Mr. Mackenzie King he had found the Prime Minister defining the future goal of the Liberal party to secure for the mass—the average family—prosperity and happiness, and to protect them against the impositions of the vested interests.

The speaker said he had urged the Prime Minister to have a Western policy, not a policy antagonistic to the East, as the public had understood in the past by "the Eastern policy" in antagonism to the West, but one considering the West in its true relation to the whole Dominion. They would notice that though few Liberals were returned from the West in 1921, Mr. King had not allowed that to discriminate against the four Western provinces, and that instead four of the six Western Liberals had been admitted to the Cabinet as representing their provinces.

Freight Rates

Turning to freight rates the General said the result of Mr. Meighen's recent visit to the Maritime provinces, whatever he had intended to convey in his Halifax speech, had been to convey the impression that the ex-Premier sympathized with the Maritime provinces as against the Western view in the freight rates controversy. The speaker said he had watched Mr. Mackenzie King's development of mind towards equalization of freight rates, coming at length to the understanding that he must do justice to the West. Hence the decision with regard to grain and flour, staple commodities and its enforcement by regulation.

Had any injustice been done, he queried, to the Maritime provinces by the order? The speaker answered that question in the negative, declaring that their day of equalization would come when other commodities, in which they were vitally interested, were adjusted.

Five Nations in One

In Canada, General Odlum went on, they had five nations in one, the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia, with different needs, different industries, and different demands. "Canada," he observed, "has not yet become populous enough to have hand touching hand, heart touching heart, it has union of rails and of land, but rails and land do not make a nation."

"Whatever adjustments may be made in freight rates," he argued, "it is a temporary question of immediate politics, but the question what will be our financial policy will be for ever with us."

The speaker defended the low tariff policy and compared it with the policy of the United States, as advocated by the Conservative leader to be the best policy for Canada. He maintained that the Liberal leader saw the whole, the Conservative leader parts only of the Dominion, and thus instead of seeking the high tariff wanted by Ontario, and the low tariff wanted by the Prairies, Mr. Mackenzie King sought a tariff of nation-wide appeal, between the extremes.

Such a policy led to a national unity, an offset to the sentiment expressed on the Prairies towards a Western Dominion, inspired by feelings that Eastern Canada was willing to sacrifice the West to its industrial interests.

Says Lost Opportunity

In conclusion, while both Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Ivel were excellent men, he would like to say of Dr. Tolmie that as Minister of Agriculture in the Meighen Government, he had the opportunity, and did not deliver the goods, of putting the grain on rail for the Pacific, by using the key of lower freight rates, while the Liberals saw the opportunity, turned the key, and the grain began to flow westward.

Mr. H. H. Shandley, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, presided, and spoke briefly on the Western rates question. He appealed to Victorians to vote for Mr. Ivel, and thereby seize the opportunity for development knocking at their door.

Navy League Tag Day Planned for October 17

A meeting was held at the Empress Hotel last evening to arrange the details in connection with the tag day to be held on October 17 in aid of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League, which is making its annual collection in behalf of the fund which is devoted to the training of the Naval Brigade and other enterprises which are its special interest.

Mrs. H. Crocker, director of the Islands District Women's Institutes, has been appointed convener of the tag day, assisted by Mrs. A. Booth, president, and Mrs. S. W. Raven, secretary of the same organization.

Mr. W. M. Hotham was present at the meeting to represent the executive of the Navy League, and Mr. P. A. Rayner, the secretary. The committee is anxious to secure the names of any ladies who would be willing to act as conveners for the different sections of the city. The tag day committee will be the guests at luncheon of the Navy League executive at their monthly meeting at Spencer's dining-room at 12:30 on Tuesday.

Antoine, Paris Knife Thrower, Tells How to Heal Cupid's Scars

Apache Discovers Secret of Removing Tattooed Emblems—Mementoes of "Undying Affection" Wiped Away by New Process Evolved in Underworld

PARIS, Oct. 9.—There is hope for the youth and maiden of yesteryear—sweethearts then, but strangers now. The little tattooed heart, pierced with a Cupid's dart, pricked on arms as a sign of undying affection, can easily be removed.

The secret of the process of effacing the India ink became known through the arrest of Antoine, "the knife thrower," one of the most notorious apaches in Paris. When he was taken into the Bertillon room for measurement the police were surprised to find that two beautifully tattooed designs which formerly adorned his chest, had completely disappeared. After long questioning Antoine modestly admitted that he had discovered a formula for removing the ink, which scientists had vainly been searching for. He was induced to part with the recipe, which is as follows:

"Pour upon the tattooed part a solution of essence of tannic acid. Then with needles similar to those used in tattooing, inject the acid into the skin, making the needle pricks as close as possible to each other. Rub the part treated lightly with a crayon of nitrate of silver."

Antoine declared that the wound would heal in a sort of black thick crust which would disappear after two or three weeks, taking along with it the tattooed design. He said the entire operation was painless.

Double Service in Want Ads

You can telephone your answers as well as your classified advertisements to The Colonist. Readers are often interested in Want Advertisements that do not carry the names or addresses of advertisers, but a Colonist box number. For the accommodation of those readers who find it inconvenient to write an answer, and to serve the advertiser better, we will take replies to Box Numbers over the telephone.

The Colonist Service is available from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., excepting Sundays. Phone 11.

NEWPORT AVENUE—HIGH SITUATION
OVERLOOKING OAK BAY
VERY ATTRACTIVE BUNGALOW, of artistic design. Something different from the ordinary house. It has a special appeal and charm to the artistically inclined. If your inclinations are for something removed from the stereotyped kind of bungalow, you should inspect this.
It contains six rooms, plus a long glassed-in room overlooking the sea, which is used nine months out of the year for a dining-room (the view from here of Mt. Baker and the sea is most alluring). Drawing and dining-rooms and the hall have hardwood floors, fine granite fireplace with built-in seats, beamed ceiling, panelling, several good built-in features. The woodwork is exceptionally good. There are three bedrooms, kitchen and bathroom opening on separate hall, away from the rest of the house. A good basement, furnace, and garage. Nice garden.

TWENTY-TWO DOLLARS A FOOT
FOR one of the very best corners on Rockland Avenue! Wouldn't you say that was pretty cheap for Victoria's best residential district? Well, we have a property there, containing nearly three-quarters of an acre, with frontage on two streets and a lane, beautifully treed with oaks, and containing very little rock. A fine site for one large residence or two moderately large ones. Presents no building difficulties. Very convenient to cars, and a comfortable walk to town. Owned by a corporation which does not wish to carry it. The local manager says he will recommend to his office acceptance of $4,300 for the whole property. Surely, such an opportunity will never again arise in Victoria. No telephone inquiries will be answered about this property.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia at its next session by The Esquimalt Waterworks Company (hereinafter called "the Company") and the Corporation of the City of Victoria for an Act (to be known as "The Esquimalt Waterworks Company Winding-Up Act, 1925") providing for the following matters and powers, namely:—

1. Validating the notice of expropriation given by the Water Commissioner for the City of Victoria to the Company on August 4th, 1925, by which said Commissioner expropriated the undertaking of the Company on terms, price, and conditions named in said notice, a true copy of which may be inspected by any person on any business day during office hours at the office of the Water Commissioner, at the City Hall, Victoria, B.C., and at the office of The Esquimalt Water Works Company, Sayward Building, Victoria, B.C.

2. Declaring that the undertaking of the Company is expropriated, bound by and taken over by the said notice, subject to payments by the city referred to in said notice.

3. Investing the City of Victoria with full power and authority to fulfil all the terms and provisions contained in said notice, to operate the undertaking of the Company and to enjoy all franchises, corporate rights, powers, and privileges conferred by charter on the Company, and vesting the same in the said city on completion of payments to the Company.

4. Providing that the Company's powers during the period of payment by the city shall be limited to the disposal of moneys received, right to recover by legal process instalments of payments after three months' default, and granting the Company a vendor's lien.

5. Providing that on final payment by the city the Company shall cease to exist, subject to power to divide final payment among parties entitled.

6. Providing for the execution of all necessary grants and conveyances and the holding of same in escrow until final payment.

7. Declaring the City of Victoria, subject to default in payments by the city and to the exercise of the Company's vendor's lien, to be and to have been the owner of all franchises, corporate rights, powers and privileges and the undertaking and assets of the Company as from August 1st, 1926, and vesting in the city the benefit of all contracts made with the Company.

8. Generally granting full powers to both the Company and the city to make and carry out all necessary agreements to secure full performance of provisions contained in said notice of expropriation.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., September 19th, 1925.

Stock Prices Show Strength

Issues Soar Again Under Leadership of Industrials—Motors Advance

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Stock prices gave another impressive demonstration of strength today under the leadership of industrials.

S. S. Kresge soared 51 points to a new high record for all time, 17 points above Monday's low, and then slipped back to 700 on profit-taking. Detroit Edison jumped more than 10 points to a new top at 154 3-4, closing within a point of top. Short covering played a prominent part in the rise of motor stocks. Studebaker, General Motors and Dodge Brothers "A" all mounted to new peak prices for the year as well as a number of rubber and motor accessory shares, including U.S. Rubber, Goodrich, Timken Roller Bearing, Fisher Body and Gabriel Rubbers.

Tobacco stocks were given another whirlwind under the leadership of United Cigar Stores which soared 7 points to 97, a new top, and a gain of 13 points in two days.

United States Steel common opened at 124 1-2 and then slipped back to 123 1-4.

Call money held at 4 1-2 points all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Total sales were 2,002,300 shares. Although a firm undertone was maintained, the bond market made little additional progress today. Trading was featured by renewed buying of railroad obligations, which was influenced by the unprecedented August earnings and several favorable developments affecting individual carriers.

Chicago Grain

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Government report, a stand off on wheat. Bearish on corn.

Wheat: Houses with Eastern connection were busy on the buying side of wheat market today. There was free selling on the bulges, however, and this caused frequent setbacks. These were taken advantage of by local shorts to even up for the Government report. Tone at Winnipeg was heavy and had effect here. Modern Miller estimate a good increase in acreage will be seeded this Fall. In view of the small receipts coming to Chicago we would not care to be short.

Corn: Offerings light and bulge was easily attained when shorts covered. Commission houses also bought. Sentiment more favorable to the buying side.

Strength Displayed By Winnipeg Wheat

Selling Pressure Light With Little Offering and Market Records Advances

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—Responding to strength in United States markets and more favorable weathr conditions in the West, the wheat market here today recorded substantial advances, closing 1⅝ to 2 cents higher, with December leading the way at 119⅞. October closed at 123⅝ and November at 123½.

The foreign demand was poor today, selling pressure light and offerings meagre. The buying power was moderate and largely confined to "short" coverings. Traders estimated today that 5,000,000 bushels of Manitobas a week will fill present European orders—one-fourth the rate of marketing at present.

There was a fair trade in coarse grains and flax, with prices following the wheat trend. Prices were on the upgrade throughout the day, with flax featuring with a 6-cent advance.

Winnipeg Grain Letter

(Supplied by R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—Wheat: Short covering on a rather large scale, both here and in American markets, due to report to be issued this afternoon by United States Government on Spring wheat crop, it was feared would be bullish, and final figures, which were around the top, showed an advance of 1⅝ to 2 cents above the close yesterday. Local market was largely influenced by strength at Chicago. A feature of the market today was the light offerings, there being no pressure at any time and buying was difficult. There was very little export business, if any, and local exporters stated that no acceptances had been received over night, and seaboard reported that foreign demand was flat. Private cables stated that Canadian wheat was being offered in London on the basis of $1.17, Winnipeg, October. Broomhall reported the demand quiet for wheat, with millers taking only small quantities for immediate requirements. Cables were firmer today, following the stiff decline of yesterday. There was a better demand for cash wheat today and a fair volume of wheat changed hands at spreads about unchanged. Millers claimed the buying was on top for tonnage supply. Millers reported a fair demand for future, with export business nil. The weather over the West is favorable and somewhat milder. We see nothing in the situation to bull the market on, and believe market now technically weaker, due to short covering. The Government report estimated the Spring wheat crop in the United States as at 282,000,000, slightly under last month.

Coarse Grains: Markets reflected strength in wheat and all closed somewhat higher. There was a fair trade in oats, but barley and rye were dull.

British Currency Notes

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Daily Express gives the Midland Bank, of which Reginald McKenna, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, is president, as authority for the statement that British currency notes probably will be replaced some time in 1926 by Bank of England notes of the same denomination, namely one pound and ten shillings. The monetary system, it is pointed out, would then be a thorough gold standard as in 1914, except that no gold would circulate, notes being used instead.

Another Milling Deficit

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—The annual statement of the St. Lawrence Flour Mills Company, Ltd., for the year ended August 31, 1925, shows that the company, like other milling interests, did not enjoy a prosperous year. Deficit for the year amounted to $98,300 as against a profit of $145,900 in the previous year.

Whalers Are Closing Down 1925 Season

Consolidated Whaling Corporation Shuts Down Rose Harbor Station — Two Vessels Return to Port

Ss. Gray to Sail North Soon

Whaling operations in the Queen Charlotte Islands carried on by the Victoria Consolidated Whaling Corporation are coming to a close. Naden Harbor Station is preparing to close down and another two whaling vessels have returned to port.

The whalers Black and White have returned, making four vessels of the fleet now in port. The others will follow within the next ten or twelve days, Captain George Le Marquard announced yesterday. The Rose Harbor Station was shut down this week, while the Kyuquot Station was closed in the middle of September. This leaves only the Naden Harbor Station still operating on a small scale, the weather out of that port still holding fairly good. The good weather is expected to break before long, and then the whalers operating out of Naden Harbor will return to port.

The tender Gray, which returned Thursday night from the whaling stations with a capacity cargo of whaling products is now in Seattle discharging a cargo of fertilizer. As soon as she completes discharge she will make another trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands to bring down 800 tons of whale oil and other whale products.

Customs Helpless To Stop Rum Flow

No Canadian Law Prohibiting Shipments to U.S., Department Points Out

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 9.—There is no law in Canada prohibiting the shipment of liquor to the United States and customs officials of Canada have therefore nothing to do with stopping such shipments. This was the answer given by the customs department this morning to a news dispatch from Hamilton stating the United Church conference had gone on record as opposing "unrestrained rum-running from Canada."

The dispatch said a member of the conference had stated that no effort was being made by the authorities to curtail the shipment of liquor at Port Colborne, Ont., also that liquor smuggling was recognized by the customs officials.

The customs department this morning denied that liquor was being smuggled into Port Colborne from outside.

The department did not deny that liquor was being shipped from ort Colborne, but said that the only action which could be taken by customs officials was to notify the United States authorities of the departure of such shipments. This was being done under the new treaty between Canada and the United States. Further than this the department had no legal authority under which to act.

Empress of Japan For Sale, Captain Beetham Announces

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, which company officials at Montreal today denied had been sold to the Roberts World Tours Company, adding that the vessel was not on the market, is a ship formerly engaged in the transpacific service, which has been lying idle in Vancouver harbor for more than two years. Capt. Edward Beetham, general superintendent of the C.P.O.S. at Vancouver, today said that the Empress of Japan is for sale, and has been for two years.

Arbitrary Rate Is Protested At Meeting

Complaint Will Be Made to R.M.S.P. Against One Dollar Arbitrary Imposed on Victoria Cargo

C.G.M.M. Gives Equal Rate

Complaint was made at the luncheon of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday that an arbitrary rate of one dollar a ton over that charged at Mainland ports was being levied on shipments landed here from the Royal Mail steamers.

This rate applied to shipments from Europe and instances of this application of the rule had recently been applied.

The opinion was expressed that this rate should be combatted. It was believed it had been adjusted by the action of the Dominion Government steamers. It was felt, therefore, that it should apply to all carriers.

The decision was reached that a complaint should be made by the Chamber to the steamship company dealing with the matter.

It is believed by local shipping men that if the arbitrary rate were waived by the R.M.S.P. the company's ships would be able to come in more regularly, as the waiving of the rate would undoubtedly be followed by an increase in cargo offerings.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Builder of Miss Victoria Plans to Lower Record

Mr. Ernest Adams Working on New Design for Next Season's Motor Boat Races—To Have Elto Engine

Present Record 15.4 Knots

Mr. Ernest G. Adams, who beat the world's outboard motor boat record of 14.1 knots with his specially designed hull, Miss Victoria, equipped with an Evinrude engine with a speed of 15.4 knots, is designing, plans for an even more speedy hull which will be equipped with an Elto engine, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Adams has just been appointed agent for the Elto motor on Vancouver Island, and has established the Marine Motors shop at 575 Yates Street.

The specially built hull, Miss Victoria, has already won prominence for the Victoria designer, who has had factory experience with the Evinrude company.

The plans for his new hull are well under way, and the craft when completed will be much shorter and lighter than the Miss Victoria, which has been purchased by a Milwaukee outboard motor boat racer. The new hull will weigh only 100 pounds, forty-six pounds lighter than the Miss Victoria, and will be considerably shorter. This will make up for the difference in horsepower in the Elto engine, which is one horsepower less than the Evinrude used in the Miss Victoria. Mr. Adams said he hoped to lower his present record of 15.4 knots when the next season opens.

Already he has received orders for the building of hulls similar to the Miss Victoria, while installation of machines and repair work is coming in to the new firm.

Air Mail to India Will Save Ten Days

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A weekly mail service between England and India is being undertaken by the Imperial Airways, Limited, through a subsidy and a five-year contract given by the Air Ministry. Mails will be delivered in Bombay in five days, against the present fifteen days, and when the service comes into regular operation next Summer passengers also will be carried. At the outset passengers will only be carried between Cairo and Basra.

The route, slightly less than 2,500 miles in length, will be from Kantara via Ramleh and Amman to Bagdad, thence to Basra and Karachi. To prevent forced landings, especially designed three-engined aircraft will be used.

Notice to Mariners

Mariners are herewith notified that the fog bell at Shoal Point, Victoria Harbor, will not be operated for a few days pending the rewiring of the operating motor.

Czecho-Slovakian Debt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Arrangements for funding the Czecho-Slovakian debt to the United States were concluded late today. The settlement is on a basis of $115,000,000, to be liquidated over a period of sixty-two years.

Seven Ships Come to Grief Near Here in Worst Fog of Years

After turning round in the basin the Princess Kathleen put back to the dock and disembarked the passengers. The vessel was not replaced, Captain Troup considering it inadvisable to venture another ship outside the harbor during such a dense fog. The midnight run to Vancouver, however, was made by the Princess Louise, which was tied up at the Outer Wharf and was able to get out of her berth with less difficulty. Seattle passengers, who were anxious to return, left on the Vancouver boat and will go by rail to Seattle from Vancouver this morning. It is Hospital Rock that Captain Troup has been agitating the removal of. It constitutes an impediment to ships entering and leaving the Inner Harbor.

Collision In Straits

The Pacific Salvage Company picked up a message about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon stating that the Ss. Admiral Dewey, en route to Seattle from San Francisco, had collided with the steamer Texan, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, en route to San Francisco.

Sea Monarch Sunk

In a collision with the French steamship Zenon, the Seattle tug Sea Monarch was sunk off Port Townsend last night, according to a Seattle harbor radio report. The collision occurred in the heavy fog. The crew of the tug was rescued by the Zenon, which was outbound from Vancouver. The Sea Monarch was owned by the Carey-Davis Company, of Seattle, and was one of the most valuable and powerful tugs on this Coast.

Otter Goes Ashore

During the early hours of yesterday morning the steamer Otter, in the C.P.R. Gulf Islands service, went ashore at Hope Bay, Pender Island, badly damaging her hull. She pulled herself off under her own power and proceeded to the dock, and then wired for help from the Pacific Salvage Company. The Ss. Salvage Queen left at 6 o'clock yesterday morning for the scene of the accident, patched up the hole, installed a battery of pumps and commenced to tow the vessel to Victoria. Up to a late hour last night the Salvage Queen had not arrived, being delayed by the dense fog still prevalent.

C. & C. Launch Rescued

The C. & C. launch, owned by the Steadfast Bible Students' colony at Sooke, was rescued at 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning after being adrift for more than twenty-four hours in the fog. The two occupants, Mrs. I. Edwards, wife of the business manager of the colony, and Mrs. Yance, were quite safe and none the worse for their experience. In a hazardous attempt to secure help, Mr. Bert Tonock, also one of the occupants of the launch, put out in a small boat, and after a six-hour struggle with the heavy swell which was running off the West Coast, managed to make Sooke Harbor in an exhausted condition. The gasboat Sunbeam was immediately sent out and succeeded in finding the C. & C. launch helplessly drifting shoreward between Providence Cove and the bell buoy, off Port Renfrew.

Ss. Potlatch on Rocks

The steamer Potlatch, owned by the Puget Sound Navigation Company, drove on to the rocks off Huckleberry Island, in the San Juan group, during a heavy fog Thursday night, with forty-five passengers and a crew of twenty-six on board. The passengers were taken to Anacortes, twenty-seven miles southwest of the island, in launches. The company floated the Potlatch yesterday afternoon.

Canadian Winner Floated

Going aground on the Fraser River sandbar during the early hours of yesterday morning, the Canadian Winner of the C.G.M.M., succeeded in floating herself on the high tide yesterday afternoon, and proceeded to the Fraser Mills.

Reports from the West Coast indicate that the weather is clear to the north, and that the fog is only prevalent on the southern end of the Island. Sooke Harbor reports heavy swell, with dense fog and smoke, but from Pachena north no fog is reported, and the sea is either moderate or calm, with very little wind.

SEATTLE, Oct. 9.—After three vessels grounded in two days in Puget Sound and adjacent waters the steamers Admiral Dewey and Texan collided this afternoon in the Strait of Juan de Fuca three miles east of Dungeness. The four casualties occurred in heavy fog.

The boat deck of the Dewey was damaged when the flare of the prow of the Texan raked her on the port side, but both boats proceeded, the Texan for San Francisco and the Dewey for Seattle.

The Dewey, carrying freight and passengers from Los Angeles and San Francisco, belongs to the Pacific Steamship Company. The Texan is a freighter of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company.

Damage Not Serious

The Admiral Line headquarters here announced that the Admiral Dewey was not seriously damaged and that no one was injured.

PORT ANGELES, Oct. 9.—The steamer Texan docked at the Charles Nelson mill here at 5:15 tonight with practically no damage from collision with the Admiral Dewey. Paint scraped off and one rivet cut off high on her port bow bear the only marks of the collision. Tom Duffy, Seattle pilot aboard the Texan, said the steamer's engines were going full steam astern when the Dewey scraped the side of the ship so lightly it could not be felt from the bridge of the Texan. Fog was so thick visibility was impossible for only fifty feet from the vessel.

Captain Drake Is Reported Safe at Balboa on Pilgrim

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Oct. 9.—Captain Thomas Drake, who is attempting a lone voyage around Cape Horn, has arrived here from Seattle. He plans to remain here three weeks before continuing his voyage.

Blanket of Fog Imperils Coast Shipping in B.C.

Mist Thickens Each Night, Delaying Sailings and Occasioning Minor Marine Casualties

Two Vessels Go Aground

This is a period of anxiety for the navigation of the waters around the British Columbia Coast. Fog, the seaman's worst enemy, lies heavy over the straits and gulf, and two or three casualties have been occasioned thereby.

A small boat adrift off Jordan River, with two occupants, the grounding of the Otter at Hope Bay, and the fact that the Canadian Winner from Antwerp went aground in the Fraser River, later being floated, are all instances of the problems presented by the exceptional weather.

The Princess Marguerite was unable to make her run from Vancouver to Seattle last evening, and had to wait until the fog cleared in order to reach Victoria in time to take the afternoon sailing back. The Indianapolis brought passengers here from the Sound today, this Puget Sound Navigation boat filling in for the absent steamer.

The Princess Maquinna made port after encountering fog throughout the trip up the Straits, in fact the sun was obscured from Cape Beale until Victoria was sighted. The Maquinna brought in a heavy shipment of cargo, canned salmon, fertilizer, and other commodities. She proceeded to Vancouver to load.

The barge service between Vancouver and Nanoose and between Vancouver and Ladysmith has been disorganized, officials of the B.C. Coast Service state, and some of the sailings have had to be cancelled.

Deep sea shipping coming up the Strait has also been handicapped, and vessels have had to anchor in the Royal Roads to await the lifting of the fog.

Kamchatka Is Like Modern Metropolis

It Has Fine Schools, Streets, Modern Machinery, Radio, Motion Pictures

SEATTLE, Oct. 9.—The impressions that Kamchatka, Siberia, is a land of desolation, inhabited only by Eskimos and bears, is far from the truth, Captain Albert Grove, commander of a fishing schooner recently returned from the region, declared here.

"I was very much surprised at the conditions existing in Petropavlosk," Captain Grove said, "for I had an entirely different idea of the place before we arrived there last May. They have fine schools, splendid sanitary conditions, well paved streets, modern machinery, radio, motion pictures and practically everything any metropolis enjoys.

"Their schools are particularly efficient. I was told that nine years ago only 30 per cent of the population could read and write, whereas now over 90 per cent of them, both adults and children, are well advanced in the rudiments of schooling.

"So efficient were the schools there that Kenneth Price, a Seattle high school boy in my crew, requested permission to remain in Petropavlosk for a year to study special branches, and I allowed him to do it.

"The people of Petropavlosk are strong for outdoor sports, and persons of both sexes, young and old, take a keen delight in the almost weekly contests waged in the city stadium. The fisheries of Kamchatka are a Japanese concession, but the agreement seems to be administered most amicably."

London Stock Market Maintains Firm Tone

LONDON, Oct. 9.—While the general run of business on the stock exchange has been restricted owing to the usual settlement, the tone of the market has been maintained throughout the week at a very fair level.

Little, if any, abatement has been perceptible in the scramble for rubber shares amongst the speculative lots. During the latter part of the week home rails have betrayed a better tendency and industrials have been more active all round.
